Gets New Lease

Chief Justice Hughes is a ready wit, as has been proved on more than one occasion.

It is related that shortly after his second election as governor of New York, Mr. Hughes was showing a prominent lawyer through the executive mansion, when the latter exclaimed: "You certainly have a handsome place here."

"Yes," said Governor Hughes, and then remembering the bitterness of the election campaign he had just passed through, he added: "But I had a hard time getting the landlord to renew the lease."

Her Scout Deed

Spreading Christmas cheer is the good scout deed of this member of the Girl Scout troop at Our Lady Queen of Martyrs Church, New York City. Each year Girl Scouts throughout the country collect old toys and repaint and repair them for youngsters who might otherwise have been forgotten at Christmas time. (N.C.W.C.)

Nazareth College in the News

By HELEN MACCHIA

Miss Nan Gray, director at Genesee Institute addressed the Sociology Club, Tuesday evening. Her subject was "A Typical Day at the Settlement House." The lecture was highly entertaining and very much enjoyed by those in attendance.

Several members of the Sociology department are co-operating with the Rochester Catholic Charities in a study being conducted in one of the parish schools under the direction of the Child Guidance Clinic here. These include Bernice Foery, Peg Lillich, Catherine Meisenahl, Helen Harding and Jane Skivington.

Mrs. Francis, director of the Family Welfare Society gave an interesting lecture to the Senior Sociology Majors on Thursday on the work done by that particular agency.

The Fromin Mission Unit of Nazareth College has just completed a highly successful "old clothes" drive and is now busily engaged in collecting medicines for the Selma, Alabama Mission. Several members of the group under the direction of Virginia Hausman and Ruth Ann Brewer are conducting a toy drive. As a part of this drive, fifty dolls will be donated and dressed by the students for distribution to poor children.

Bride, bridesmaids and flower girls promenaded in the Style Show given in the College Social Room on last Wednesday at 4 P. M. Models from the Secretarial Club assisted the bridal party and modeled clothes from McCurdy's.

Mildred Curtin was chosen bride from the Junior Class. Peggy McCann was maid of honor. Ruth Brewer from the Sophomore Class and Mary Harris, freshman were the bridesmaids. Mary and Ann Morgan, daughters of Mrs. Morgan were flower girls. The selections were made by the students at the general assembly one week ago.

The music club has planned a tront for the faculty and students for Friday evening, Dec. 1, in the form of an interpretative piano recital. The guest artist is to be Mr George MacNabb, well-known concert pianist and major teacher of the Eastman School of Music. Mr MacNabb has had wide experience both as a lecturer and concert artist.

His program tours have included the largest cities of the United States and Canada and participation with the major orchestras of the country.

K. of C. Plays Host To Army Officers, Men

HEMPSTEAD, N. Y. — Officers and enlisted men stationed at Mitchel Field were guests of Hempstead Council, Knights of Columbus, at its first open house. More than 40 men were present. Tuesday and Friday nights have been permanently set aside as enlisted men's nights.

Grand Knight Charles Schlimm of Hempstead Council and Capt. Paul J. Giegerich, Chaplain at Mitchel Field welcomed the men and spoke of the plans for the future. Among the guests present were the Rev. A. C. Marzhauser, of Pittsburgh; Capt. Charles Baird and Lieut. William V. Ellis.

Rural Life Conference In 1941 Set

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo.—Plans are under way for the 1941 convention of the National Catholic Rural Life Conference to be held here October 3-8.

Commenting on these plans, the Most Rev John J. Glennon, Archbishop of St. Louis, under whose patronage the convention will be called, said:

"Without a healthy and overflowing spring a river cannot come into being. The sea would dry up without the rivers, so a sound and abundant Catholic rural population is necessary to maintain a prosperous urban Catholicity. The National Catholic Rural Life Conference is dedicated to the achievement of economic, social and spiritual security for rural America.

"We welcome the 1940 convention to our archdiocese and to the State Capital, fully conscious of the good to be accomplished."

The Very Rev. Msgr. Leo J. Steck, Diocesan Director of the Catholic Rural Life Bureau, will be assisted by the Rev. Rudolph B. Schuler, Secretary of the Bureau, in the matter of arrangements.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. L. G. Liguitti, Executive Secretary of the National Catholic Rural Life Conference, visited St. Louis and Jefferson City and was highly pleased with the preparations already under way.

Holy Childhood Association

Rev. John S. Randall
DIRECTOR

To the Children of America:

"What do you think that Meloha (elegant Flower) and his little sister Meili (elegant Jasmin) are asking the Infant Jesus for Christmas? A beautiful dragon with terrible big eyes? . . . A big . . . red and green . . . Candy Boudda? Oh! NO; They are asking for neither toys, nor sweets, for ever since the floods, they don't play any more, for They Are Too Hungry! All day long they cry for something to eat! But what they are asking for from the Infant Jesus . . . what they are longing for . . . is to have on awakening on Christmas morning A Big Bowl of thick, steaming hot, Millet Porridge.

And what do you imagine that the Infant Jesus replies to these little ones? "Little brother Meloha, and little sister Meili, please don't cry any more' Tomorrow is a herds of Bethlehem, the children big feast day' Just like the Shepof America too will come to my Crib to present their offerings . . . and . . . this Offering, in their name, I will now give you! Ah, don't cry any more, Meloha and Meili, for thanks to your little brothers and sisters of America, you will not die of hunger, but you will have, all winter long, big bowls of thick, steaming hot Millet Porridge."

So you can see, boys and girls, these poor starving little people of China aren't asking for shining new skates, bright red fire engines, or beautiful dolls that talk and sleep. All they ask is just a little bit of help to keep body and soul together Just a simple bowl of porridge is all they ask for

And you see, the Child of Bethlehem has promised them the offerings which boys and girls will present at His Crib. He knows very well how generous you have always been, and for it He showers you with many blessings. He loves these poor little starving Chinese the same as He loves you. And since we are all brothers in Christ, let us resolve that this Christmas we will sacrifice harder—than—ever to bring some cheer to these little friends of ours in lands that are far off. Why not start in now, if you haven't already done so, and try to save enough for one ransom for Christmas. You have no idea how much happiness it will bring to little people like Meloha and his little sister Meili.

NEWSWEEK

The mail from Brockport this week was real heavy. And no wonder! When we opened it to our surprise and sheer delight we discovered no less than three ransoms and a payment of Holy Childhood dues. You will remember from last year these boys and girls are poetically inclined. The boys and girls of the Seventh and Eighth grades have ransomed two babies and have put their request to poetry

In the mail bag this week
You will find a little treat
For the sisters sodear
Who with happy hearts and cheer
To the Sunny South took flight,
To rescue negroes from a sorry plight
Pennies, pennies though they be.
Perhaps some misery they'll free
And help these souls so dear
Closer to their God draw near

The boys and girls of the Fifth and Sixth grades are also Alabama minded and would like to ransom a little negro boy from Selma. His name is to be Joseph Thank you very very much for this fine demonstration of real mission interest We sincerely appreciate the fine work which you are doing out there in Brockport.

We always get a big thrill when we meet new missioners. This time we have the pleasure of presenting to you a group of zealous missioners. They hail from the Catechism classes of St. Francis Assisi Church in Auburn. These boys and girls have saved ten dollars and would like to save two babies for Christ. They didn't suggest any names, so suppose we have them baptized Emmett, in honor of their Catechism instructor Father Emmett Murphy, and Francis, in honor of the patron of their Church. Since the children of China are suffering so terribly, with them. Many many thanks, we have placed your adoptions boys and girls We congratulate you on your fine efforts, and we encourage you to keep up this good work.

The next school in line seems to be Holy Rosary where we always find a true mission spirit Here are the letters as we received them.

"The pupils of the Eighth grade North wish to ransom a colored baby girl. We should like her named Mary. For godmother and godfather we have selected Dorothy Schropp and David Maher. As our former teacher, Sister M. Anastasi, is now stationed at Selma, Ala., we are especially interested in that mission and would like our ransom money to go there." Nancy Cleere, 8th North, Holy Rosary School.

"The Seventh Grade West at Holy Rosary School is sending five dollars to ransom a Negro baby in Selma, Alabama. We would like the baby named Frances Marie The godparents are Richard Dever and Mary Braun Seventh Grade West, Holy Rosary School.

A thousand thanks, boys and girls! I am very sure that your former teacher who is now working among the colored will be pleased to know that her pupils are so interested in the work she is doing.

And here are two more letters from a hale and hardy bunch. The boys from Nazareth Hall are the ones of whom I speak

"We have just completed our second mission book The class decided they wanted to have a negro baby baptized and named Francis Xavier in honor of the feast day We are glad that we have finished a book for Christmas. That is what we have been working for. The first half of the book was a close race but the other side won We now have ten dollars altogether. Please send the ransom for this negro baby to Selma, because my teacher has Sisters teaching there." Robert Nier, 6th Grade, Nazareth Hall.

"We just ransomed another baby. Her name is going to be Mary. William Wegman and Raymond Langs team won. The baby mond Langs team won. The baby is going to be a negro baby. Please send the money to Africa." James Britt, 4th Grade, Nazareth Hall.

Hats off to you boys, for such a fine record. You may be sure that the little ones whom you have ransomed will be happy for Christmas, all because of your generosity and love for the missions.

Well, well, well! Look who's here! Long time, no see! Imagine how delighted we were this morning when we picked up a nice big envelope bearing the postmark of "Clyde, New York." All of you boys and girls know how hard these little people from Clyde worked for the missions last year Their zeal was something that simply amazed us And here they are back on the job.

"We have had a hard time to get our five dollars together Everyone in the class has been working hard for the last few weeks to get this five dollars to ransom a baby. We would like a Chinese boy to be named Joseph Vincent. We have chosen Thomas Viola to be the godfather and Eileen O'Herren for the godmother. Every day we pray for the missions and we hope to ransom many more babies this year" —Lois Pangburn, 7th Grade, St. John's School, Clyde, N. Y.

"Well, here we are at last with our first ransom which is due partly to the kindness of our pastor Father Curtin. We have decided on a little Chinese girl named Mary Gertrude and have chosen Katherine diRenzo and Goodwin Sheridan as godparents. We are trying with all our might to keep up a good mission spirit and hope you will hear from us soon again. I speak for the entire grade when I say that no sacrifice is too great for a cause like the Holy Childhood" Doris Redder, 8th Grade, St. John's, Clyde, N. Y.

SEALS

We are delighted beyond words with the way you boys and girls are going after the sale of Holy Childhood Christmas seals Nearly everyone of the schools have reordered from us and this is truly most encouraging We have a few schools who are reporting their complete sale this morning Holy Ghost School in Coldwater have sold 500 seals; St. Patrick's in Seneca Falls have disposed of 1500 and St. Mary's in Elmira have sent in returns for 2800 seals. Many thanks to all of you for your work Christmas will be made a little brighter for our many little mission orphans.

DUES

From the far north of Charlotte we received a nice big check for $16.81 from the boys and girls of Holy Cross School for Holy Childhood dues from Clyde, where they are always prompt in the matter of dues comes $5.52, and Nativity, Brockport sent along with their three ransoms, the sum of $7.00 Thank you all for taking care of this little duty.

Team Invited To Play In 'Toy Bowl' Game

NEW ORLEANS.—Holy Cross as the second-ranking high school football team in New Orleans, has been invited to play again this year in the "Toy Bowl Game" Dec. 14, for the benefit of the Times-Picayune Doll and Toy Fund for poor children. Its opponent will be the champion of the Mississippi Big Eight, the undefeated high school team of Meridian, Miss.

This year, as in 1939, the Holy Cross team was invited to play, because both years Jesuit High School, New Orleans city champion, must complete its seasons's schedule to compete for state honors and thus was unable to accept the additional game.

Holy Cross High School is conducted by Brothers of the Holy Cross.

Church In Farley's Town Marks Jubilee

GRASSY POINT, N. Y.—With former Postmaster General James A. Farley, Grassy Point's most distinguished son, as Honorary Chairman of the Golden Jubilee Celebration, St. Joseph's Church here has just celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of its cornerstone laying.

The land on which the church stands was donated over a half century ago by a Methodist—Major Adam Lilburn. Grassy Point itself was at one time a thriving community, center of a brick making industry, but today is a "ghost town."

"A dog fills a mighty empty place in a man's life."

"Sure does, especially a hot dog."

That's one thing about the Columbus Civic Centre . . . everyone knows where it's located. And that is an important point because it is situated near enough to the business section and far enough away to provide an ideal place to live.

Visit the Centre and then you'll make your address 50 Chestnut St.
