

Seminarians in China War, Fr. Hilbert Says

NEW YORK. — War draft in China is taking its toll of seminary students in the vicinity of Kiating and in the neighboring areas, according to Father Charles Hilbert, rector of Maryknoll's seminary in Kiating, many of the students, although residents of other sections of China, are affected by the draft and are being called upon for military duty.

This will seriously interfere with the number of native vocations now being prepared for work among their own people in China. Several seminarians have returned to their homes and will remain there until such time as it is feasible for them to re-enter their studies.

It has been the object of Maryknoll since its establishment, to build up a native clergy in as many sections of the Orient as possible. At the present time, Maryknoll's seminary is operating in various parts of Eastern Asia. To date, the only one affected by the war is at Kiating.

The plan of the Catholic Foreign Mission Society of America, Maryknoll, is to remain in a territory only as long as it will be necessary to establish the parish authentically well before the native priests take it over.

Father Hilbert, son of Mr. James Hilbert, 140 Normandy Avenue, Rochester, was ordained at Maryknoll by the Most Rev. Augustus Gaubier of the Paris Foreign Missions Society, in 1912. He has since that time been in the service of the Society at Kiating, where he has since remained.

Patron Saint of Pen and Press

(The following article is reproduced from an issue of the RELIGIOUS BULLETIN of the University of Notre Dame.)

It is nearly a week since the feast of St. Francis de Sales. Every year on the 28th of January, the eve of his feast, these words of commemoration are read from the Roman Martyrology, "The feast of St. Francis de Sales, Bishop of Geneva

St. Francis de Sales

Confessor and Doctor of the Church, the special Patron of all Catholic writers who explain, promote or defend Christian doctrine by publishing journals or other writings in the vernacular. The Bulletin is proud of its heavenly patron and hopes to imitate his good works. It especially desires to give souls through the famed Miletan technique.

What is that? you will ask. Well, if anything sums up the manner of St. Francis de Sales, it is his own excellent proverb: "You can catch more flies with a spoonful of honey than you can with a barrel of vinegar." That one line is almost his autobiography, just as St. Augustine's life portrait is contained in the sentence: "Thou hast made us for Thyself, O Lord; our hearts are restless till they rest in Thee."

Weapons of a Saint. Confessors, holiness, the art of persuasion, preaching in season and out; these were the weapons of St. Francis de Sales. Above all, the love of God—of God in Himself and of God existing by grace in the hearts of men, and recognized there by the eyes of faith.

How he went after the Calvinist heretics in the Chablais! How he kept after them though they forced him out of his house into retreat at Annecy. He kept writing his letters, kept making his journeys, kept pouring kindness increasingly into their lives till literally thousands of them finally yielded. Had

Committees Get Call For Hayes Concert

Committees for the Roland Hayes concert at the Auditorium next month will be organized at a meeting Monday evening on the third floor of the Columbus Civic Center. The distinguished Negro tenor will appear in concert at the Academy of Music, 100 East Main Street on Tuesday evening, Feb. 23, under the auspices of the Blackfriars Guild and the Holy Name Union.

The Diocesan Holy Name Union will devote its share of the proceeds to purchasing needed religious articles for the Rochester area. These include prayer books, rosaries, medals, etc. They will be distributed to National Guardsmen, selectees and regulars and reserves in the Navy and Marine Corps.

The double fact of Mr. Hayes' return to the concert stage here and the very worthy purpose for which the concert is being held has spurred the various groups of the city to drawing capacity audiences. A record turnout is expected at Monday's organization meeting which will be addressed by the Rev. John S. Readwell.

Mr. Hayes' Randall pointed out this week that those who purchase reserved seat tickets from the committee will get choice locations, inasmuch as these tickets will be exchanged for seats prior to the opening of the Auditorium boxes for public sale. Word was received this week from the west coast that Roland Hayes is drawing capacity audiences on his concert tour in that section. He will return east within a few weeks for his annual concert at New York's Town Hall and follow that up with his Rochester appearance. (See story, this pleasing dreadful thought?)

You still have time to enter the competition, to win a bonus for promptness. BUT YOU MUST ACT NOW.

Do This And You're In

1. Select the best and most appropriate answers to the 10 questions on this page.
 2. Indicate by number your choice of those best answers in the coupon below the questions.
 3. Send that coupon to the Contest Editor with 50 cents in coin, check or money order. (You may if you wish pay in full for the entire contest now $2.50.)
- Do that before midnight of next Saturday and you're properly entered and fully qualified to compete for one of the 261 awards offered, with a substantial bonus if you emerge winner of one of the first seven prizes.

Remember, this is a short contest. In just six more weeks it will be over. In that short time you can win $3,500.

You Can Win

You can win in this contest. Your opportunity is so good as good as that of any other contestant.

You needn't be exceptionally well educated in matters Catholic and American. The answers to the contest questions already asked are easy of selection. They almost stare at you from the printed page. They will be found in reliable history texts, copies of which you or your children certainly have in your homes.

A little study, a little logical reasoning is all that is necessary. You can do that.

Greatest Number Of Prizes

Look at the prize list. 261 cash awards. A greater number than have ever been offered in a contest of this kind anywhere in the United States. That means a greater number of contestants will win. It means that your opportunity to be a winner is greater than in any other similar past or present competition.

Don't pass up this opportunity. You can't lose. The fun, the excitement, the education derived through participation are well worth the effort of competition. And you can win $3,500, or $1,750, or $750, or any one of 258 additional awards.

Remember the deadline. Saturday at midnight. That's the last hour. Get your entry in the mail before then—now, this very day.

For Contestants Already Entered

If you are already entered in the contest and are up to date, answer only questions nine and ten, and mail your coupon with 10 cents in coin before midnight of Saturday, February 8.

Remember, to qualify for a promptness prize you must answer the first ten questions and remit not less than 50 cents by February 8.

If you have entered but dropped behind, pick up where you left off and get your answers to the first ten questions in this week. Keep after that $3,500 first prize. You can win.
