The Bill Of Rights A Discussion and Study Outline

By MARY A. VENGO

Origin and Significance MONDAY

The principles contained in the Declaration of Independence and the Bill of Rights are the result of centuries of Christian civilization in Europe. Occasionally we hear it stated that these documents were derived from the radicals in France who instigated the French Revolution. This is not true. Many of the men who drafted up these great documents that guarantee to our Christian rights and liberties were educated in the Christian schools and Universities of Europe.

A Catholic Code Of Citizenship

The Catholic citizen is ever guided by the principle. It is better to serve your neighbor than to receive, because Christ said it is better to give than to receive. The Catholic citizen is ever willing to give his time and effort to worthy causes in his community and to correct evils in his community and abuses in government.
