Herbs Supply New Taste For Ordinary Dish

[illegible] are supposed to add flavor to food. [illegible] have been in the past and [illegible] the future. Each [illegible] herb [illegible]

[illegible] herbs is not [illegible] It will take [illegible] the [illegible] your trouble. When I first discovered herbs I had only [illegible] on my shelf. [illegible] Bouquet [illegible] Leaves.

Nice As Gift

A [illegible] herbs makes a good [illegible] mix or three [illegible] and [illegible] a nice gift for an [illegible] [illegible] makes [illegible] Or [illegible] a [illegible] couple of [illegible] bay leaves, [illegible]

Here are a few food hints for [illegible]

[illegible] main dishes with [illegible] as casseroles are [illegible] Some [illegible] guest as sure to find a [illegible] of the garnish to [illegible] to the pleasure of [illegible]

Buttered boiled potatoes are [illegible] with chopped [illegible] or parsley. To make cottage cheese or [illegible] cheese [illegible] add sage. Omelets can be [illegible] varied with chopped [illegible] chives, basil, parsley or thyme. [illegible] can be changed [illegible] dish, [illegible] parsley, sage or chives [illegible] together or separately.

A Little Pep

For peppery flavors use savory, basil and the cresses.

Cook or sprinkle heavy or starchy vegetables with [illegible] marjoram, mint or savory.

Herb and soups should not be cooked too long. Put the soup herbs in a small cheesecloth bag and drop it in the stock during the last part of the simmering [illegible] no more than an hour. Herbs tend to become bitter if overcooked and they lose many of their pleasant tangy qualities.

Mint is a must for certain beverages for the traditional lamb sauce and is surprisingly good with fresh peas.

Used in Cake Too

Cake can use a spicy flavor. Add [illegible] of powdered anise and rose geranium leaves to the [illegible] of the pan; then pour the batter and bake away.

The seventh relief herbs [illegible] cooking can be endless [illegible] experiment and [illegible] careful research [illegible] Don't [illegible] Connoisseur [illegible] who put a huge [illegible] in the heart of a fine roast beef. [illegible] out of the oven looking beautiful but with a strong overpowering garlic taste [illegible] impossible to eat. And don't make a soup stock [illegible] bay leaves, the soup will be too strong and will have to be thrown out. Use all herbs sparingly and often restrain. Remember that the basic food flavors should predominate.

Landscaping Lends Final Touch To A Finished Home

"As the style change in clothing—our mode of living, etc. [illegible], the style trend in landscape architecture change with the passage of time, these changes being due primarily to the development of new improved varieties, the gaining of more experience in other types of material and the general trend toward simplicity and ease of maintenance.

Practically everyone who gives the matter much thought will agree that the planting of evergreens for foundation work in this climate has been grossly overdone in the past decade with the result that evergreen foundation plantings have got down to the level of two or three major varieties with the result that many new tracts have a very monotonous appearance and are entirely lacking in individual design.

Ornamental or flowering shrubs have been greatly improved in recent years with the result that we now have thirty or forty varieties that are perfectly hardy in this climate. Some of the older varieties have produced new strains or species with a vast improvement in habit of growth and size and texture of flower.

By the proper grouping bearing in mind color harmonies, period of bloom, type of growth, ultimate height, etc., very beautiful plantings of flowering shrubs may now be made so that if proper advice and suggestions are obtained the home owner can completely modernize an existing planting or with new [illegible] very attractive foundation plantings are available and these plantings can be [illegible] with very little physical effort and practically no attention over a long period of years for replacements.

There are however certain very fundamental principles that must be carefully observed such as placing at proper distances from building foundations to provide for the ultimate growth of the shrubs, selection of varieties for placement underneath windows so that it will not when they reach their maturity block out the light of the window. Careful consideration must also be given the exposures involved as while the shrubs will all grow and bloom no matter on what exposure planted nevertheless if planted where they will not do their best, the results are bound to be disappointing as the shrubs will be tall and lanky and the blossoms poor in quality and lacking in number.

Proper planting of flowering shrubs is very important but it is a very simple operation once you have acquired the knowledge in fact the proper pruning both as to time of season and how done will govern to a great extent the final beauty of the shrub when matured. However, this subject of pruning is not complicated and any home gardener can easily acquire the ability after proper advice has been given.

There are many grades of shrubs offered by the trade. The overgrown large heavy specimens should be avoided just as much as the poorly developed specimens. The most important feature of a new shrub is its root system and while properly planted shrubs should bloom the first year after planting, if top quality stock is purchased it is not well to force the blossoming or expect too much from it as the growth of the newly planted shrub for the first season in order to establish should be stressed on establishing and expanding the root system and if this is followed the results in subsequent seasons will be most satisfactory.

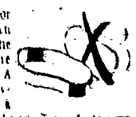
1 SHOULD A ROAST BE COVERED?



No the cover for a roasting pan can be put on the shelf with the meat ache up. A roast that is covered becomes a pot roast for the enclosed steam makes most heat as possible only with dryness so we add no water and use no cover.

2 HOW DO YOU GET CRISP, BROWNED POTATOES?

IN 3 TIMES

Parboil, form medium potatoes and parboil ten minutes, drain place around roast and bake forty minutes or until soft, turn often and baste with the meat dripping to brown. Delicious that way! They're called Francona potatoes when you want to be fancy.
