Holy Redeemer School Nun Authors Drama

Passion plays seem to possess one characteristic in common in that they all maintain a close association with the place of their origin. This the famous play and players of Oberammergau, and the one more familiar to Americans which was associated with Union City and Dunkirk.

Written a year ago by one of the Sisters of Notre Dame of the parish school this play was given its first test on Passion Sunday of last year, after the young people of the parish had responded to the call of their former teacher and undertook the difficult task of casting the play, which called for some thirty players.

Thus with a play written, cast, directed, and staged within its own limits, and with its own home talent, the parish of Holy Redeemer found itself the proud possessor of a real treasure.
