

INTERNATIONAL CHRISTIANS ISOLATED RELIGIOUS ORDERS German Prelate Sees War Harmful To Church

Christians 'Isolated' Says Pastoral

By MGR. ENRICO PLECI VATICAN CITY.—(NC)—He has been "deluded" in his "pardonable optimism" that at least this terrible conflict would have caused some change in the difficulties confronting the Catholic Church in Germany, the Most Rev. Archbishop of Freiburg...

No Mass Here Today

The high altar of St. David's Cathedral, Cardiff, Wales, shown above a Mass being celebrated here today, as a "total war" continues in Europe. Here, as in London, Catholic church property has suffered heavy damage in enemy air raids. (N.C.W.C.)

Bolshevists Latest Moves Indicate Conservative Trend

Revolutions, it seems, have a way of wearing themselves out, especially those originating from "the bottom" or "the middle." With or without violence, successful revolutionaries may eventually find the existing order, usually premising extreme reforms, only to become conservative themselves, to the extent even of adopting certain of the traditions and principles of the rejected rulers.

New 'Annuario' Explains Categories of Religious

VATICAN CITY.—(N. C.)—For the first time in an Annuario Pontificio, the differentiations between Orders and Congregations and the various categories of Religious, are explained in a note preceding the section of the 1941 yearbook devoted to this subject. There is also a brief explanatory note before each subdivision.

Baptism Of Chinese On Deathbed Made After Long Struggle

PEKING.—After 20 years of futile attempts to win parental permission to accept the Catholic religion, Lin Hsiang, a former student of Sacred Heart Middle School here, was baptized just two days before he died of typhoid fever.

Cyclone Destroys New Mission Church

DURHAM, N. C.—Natal's worst cyclone in 26 years destroyed the church, recently completed by residents of the mission of Umwati, under the direction of Father Coppens, Ideas Service reports.

Solon Uses Catholic Paper To Refute Sterilization

HONOLULU.—To make clear his fellow members the Catholic position in opposition to sterilization legislation, Senator A. C. Carvalho, of Hilo, Hawaii, distributed to all the members of the Legislature a copy of the Catholic paper, "The Catholic Voice," which is devoted to the subject.

Priest Serves Twin Brother's First Mass

LONDON.—Newly ordained, the Rev. Gerald served 100 miles to offer his first Mass in the Slipper Chapel of Our Lady of Walsingham.

Clerks Regular Listed

The "Monks" of the Annuario recalls, date from the latter part of the sixteenth century and are devoted to "the priestly apostolate in the fullest sense of the word."

Events Show Trend

Many people will find it almost impossible to believe that the bolshevik regime in Russia is growing conservative. And yet recent events and developments indicate that such is the case. The violence that marked the introduction of Communism into the United States in 1917; the internal dissensions among the revolutionaries...
