LEAGUE WINNERS
HOLY CHILDHOOD REPORTS

St. Casimir's Fives Win CYO Trophies

ELMIRA — Both the junior and senior championships of the CYO Basketball League have been captured by the athletes of St. Casimir's School here. Two new trophies symbolical of the two championships will be proudly displayed in the trophy room of St. Casimir's School.

With an abundance of basketball trophies, St. Casimir's School previously had won but one basketball championship, that of the American Legion League in 1932. It was an entirely new crop of basketball players that wore the colors of St. Casimir's this season—a number of brothers, nephews and cousins of the old Eagle team which was organized in 1930 and had represented the parish for the past 10 years.

The St. Casimir's junior team entered the CYO League in January, and finished the first round in second place, after dropping decisions to St. Anthony's and St. Patrick's. The second round was another story, however. After edging St. Patrick's, 6-5, in a peculiar checking game, the grammar school five began to play an offensive game, finished the round without a defeat, and went on to trounce SS. Peter & Paul's, 18-6, in the championship game. With the exception of Henry Margeit—who was promptly elected captain—the junior team had no basketball experience prior to this season of play. Development of the team was a steady grind, and although graduation will take a toll of six men, four of the first 10 will be available for next season, together with a number of promising players from the sixth and seventh grades.

St. Casimir's was not represented in the CYO senior league in the first round. The senior team entered the league at the start of the second round, and after the first three games, asserted itself to be the team to beat. A 17-10 upset by SS. Peter & Paul's, their only defeat, threw the Polish lads into a triple tie for first place. Then the struggle began. Exhibiting the stamina and determination of real champions, the team played three games in four days in the humid temperature of the Easter weekend, trounced SS. Peter & Paul's and St. Cecilia's, and then climaxed their march by beating St. Mary's, the first round winners, at the Academy court last Tuesday.

The records of the junior and senior teams are as follows:

Memorial To Hero

Saint John, N. B.—On a mound of greenaward near the drydock in East Saint John a 12-foot shaft of grey granite is to be raised as a memorial to the late Captain Fogarty Fegen and his crew of the heroic "Jervis Bay."

God will welcome us in heaven as we have welcomed His holy will on earth.

St. Mary's Boys Capture CYO Grammar Loop Crown

St. Mary's Boys, of the C. Y. O. Grammar School Basketball League, won the championship by defeating the strong Holy Redeemer five in a well-played game at the C. Y. A. gym on April 16. Sherry led his team to victory with eight points, while Wollke set the high of nine for Holy Redeemer. Score at the half time was 10-15 for the St. Mary's Boys and the final whistle gave them the decision of 39-22.

'Red Wings' Set For May 1 Opener

There's nothing else quite like the opening game of a baseball season, for it's then that fans by the thousands come out of a winter of retirement to see for themselves the team of which they have been reading and hearing so much since the start of spring training. It is an occasion for pomp and ceremony and carries an excitement all its own.

Opening day at Red Wing Stadium, Thursday, May 1, when Manager Tony Kaufman's new Red Wings are to raise the seasonal curtain with the rebuilt and redoubtable Jersey City Giants, promises to be one of the most gala events in the history of the Norton Street Park.

These new Red Wings, built around a considerable nucleus of the players who helped bring the 1940 International League championship to Rochester, have given a fine account of themselves since the start of the season and the manner in which they have battled to win several close games stamps the Wings as a club rich in that essential baseball attribute—courage in the clutches.

Interest in next week's opener indicates that one of the largest first-day crowds in the history of the Stadium will be on hand May 1. Many civic groups have taken large blocks of seats and the Stadium box office, which is open daily for reservations, reports an exceptionally heavy demand for tickets.

Jersey City, managed this year by Tony Cuccinello, will oppose the Wings in two more games, following the opener, and Syracuse, now under the leadership of the popular Benny Borgmann, former Red Wing infielder, will appear here Sunday, May 4. The Newark Bears are scheduled at the Stadium on May 5, 6 and 7, and the Baltimore Orioles are due here May 8, 9 and 10.

Name Double Cast In Mercy High's Drama At Aquinas

With the production of Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch, a three-act drama by Alice Hegan Rice, Our Lady of Mercy High School Senior Thespians will enact the annual senior play at Aquinas Institute Auditorium on April 29-30.

The play conforms closely with Alice Hegan Rice's original novel. Adhering to the original novel, the costumes and scenery necessarily represent the "gay nineties" period.

Following last year's plan, a double cast has been selected. Enacting the role of Mrs. Wiggs are Madge Vaughn and Betty Burns. Isabel Tierney and Mary Curran will take the part of Miss Lucy Olcott, a prominent socialite, while the part of comical Miss Hazy will be portrayed by Helen Schifferli and Betty Mulryan.

As the three lovable and unforgetable daughters of Mrs. Wiggs are Mary Grace Gould and Alice Hohman as Asia, Evelyn Ruf and Jane Miller as Australia, and Mary Elisabeth Moll and Jean Hamilton as Europena.

Portraying the parts of the two neighbor children, Judy and Mag-play.

gis, are Marie Argana and Virginia Aman.

To play the male roles four Aquinas students were selected. Emmett O'Neill will take the role of Jimmy, one of Mrs. Wiggs' sons and the breadwinner of the family. Another son, Billy, will be portrayed by William Cousins.

Enacting the part of Mr. Bob is Emmett Gauhn while the part of the crippled boy, Chris, is taken by Jack Callahan.

A military pageant, designed and trained by Miss Nan Heinrich, in which thirty-five seniors execute artistic steps, will be the finale of the play. Josephine enacts the role of Miss Liberty. The school orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Joseph Pierce, is planning appropriate music.

Betty Driscoll fills the position of prompter for both evening performances. Loyola Nolan acts as chairman of the ushers for the

Rev. John S. Randall
DIRECTOR

Vacation weeks are, as a rule, pretty dull around here. When our young missioners are away from Sister and the close contact with mission problems, we always fear that they will forget us. However, that was not the case this past week. Some of the boys and girls made personal trips to our office with glowing accounts of their missionary endeavors.

One of the most welcome visitors was Patricia Murphy of Our Mother of Sorrows Parish. She was loaded down with mission sacrifices that she had to have a body guard, and a very able one, too, in the person of her very zealous pastor, the Rev. Daniel O'Rourke. Patricia's story was so interesting that I'm going to repeat it here for you.

"I am bringing you $75.00! This is all the children of Mother of Sorrows parish were able to save during Lent. Most of your little friends want their money used for ransoms. We love to be different. We say just use it for God. Of course, the Sisters at Selma, Ala., and their precious little colored folk would be our first choice. I carried this bundle of bills seven miles. Oh boy, I'm so glad I wasn't robbed."—Yours in the "Marsh of Pennies," Patricia Murphy.

And lest you forget it, boys and girls, let me remind you that these boys and girls have no Catholic School to attend; they are either too young to attend school or they attend Public schools. Now, to my way of thinking, that alone is a thing that is worth the highest possible praise. Seventy-five dollars during Lent by these little missioners without benefit of a daily reminder from their Teacher; these boys and girls did it on their own. Father O'Rourke, too, is to be highly commended for the wonderful missionary zeal that he has instilled in these young hearts. A million, billion, trillion thanks to each and every one of you responsible for this marvelous gift.

From Holy Family, Auburn, comes a great big check to cover the ransom of two Chinese babies. The winners this week are from the Sixth Grade, and the boys and the girls each have named a baby. Joseph is the choice of the boys and Mary, the selection of the girls. Thank you a thousand times, Sixth Graders! The rest of the school could do well to imitate your zeal.

Close on the heels of Holy Family came Blessed Sacrament School with two ransoms, also. They have written their own stories and I'll let them tell you themselves.

"The Eighth Grade, Room 22, encloses a check for $5.00 for the ransom of a Chinese baby. We wish the name to be Miriam Theresa. Our grade decided to ransom a Chinese baby because of the awful living conditions which persist in war torn China. Our parish was honored by the visit of Father Flinn of Maryknoll who is partly responsible for the decision our class made in ransoming a Chinese baby. He told us about the suffering which was going on in China; and how the people, and the Maryknoll missioners were practically starving. Our parish was deeply touched by the stories. Father told us about China, and we promptly contributed to this worthy cause. We hope we will ransom another baby soon and we are planning to buy another Chinese baby."—James Nagle, 8th Grade, Blessed Sacrament School.

"I am very happy to tell you that the boys of the Seventh Grade have ransomed a baby. This is the first one the boys have purchased alone, and we are now on our second. We wish the baby to be a boy from Selma, Ala., named Mark. The baby is to be named after Mark Smith who is now president of our Mission Club. Our grade want to ransom many more tots before the June exams. So, till we write again, "Tin Gee Po Yaw" (which means, "God bless you").—Walter Isaac, 7th Grade, Blessed Sacrament School.

Surely, you must know how much I appreciate this fine work. You have made two little pagans children of the King, and indeed, you as well as they, must be very, very happy about it.

And here's a letter from Corpus Christi School. "The boys and girls of the Sixth Grade are sending you $5.00 for the ransom of a Chinese baby. We want it to be a boy because the boys saved the most money. James Donald is the name we wish to call him."—Donald Goonan, 6th Grade, Corpus Christi School.

Thanks to you, Donald, and your classmates! The Chinese children are in desperate need of your help and we congratulate in such a wise choice for the placement of your charity.

St. Mary's Home School is here again. "Although we did not raise enough money to ransom a baby before Easter, we got enough now to ransom a Negro boy at Selma, Ala. If you please we would like you to name him Joseph David and have Arlene Frawley appointed as godmother and Harry Hall as godfather. We will keep up our prayers and try to raise enough money to send to our good sisters down there to supply some food for our Negro babies."—Seventh Graders, St. Mary's Home School.

Believe you me, the Sisters at Selma will be thrilled with the baptism of Joseph David. And how thoughtful you are to want to help support them later. That is the real true mission spirit and we thank you a thousand times for it.

At the bottom of our pile this morning we find a letter from St. Agnes Institute and Sister tells us that $2.04 is being sent along for Holy Childhood dues. Thank you, girls, for taking care of this little obligation.

"The Eternal Gift"

Rev. James R. Keane, O. S. M., founder of the perpetual novena in honor of Our Sorrowful Mother, has a leading role in the new sound-motion picture, "The Eternal Gift," a dramatic presentation of the Mass. Father Keane is shown praying from the Missal on the Epistle side of the altar, in a scene from the motion picture, which has the approval of Archbishop Samuel A. Stritch, of Chicago. N.C.W.C.)

Time is the Right Time

Any time is a good time to buy an electric clock. And right now is a particularly good time, because you can obtain the beautiful NEW CHEF model at the special low price of $3.95. It can be placed on a shelf or hung on the wall and is so attractive that it will harmonize with any room.

Come and see this April bargain special and look over the many other models—including bedroom and living room clocks . . . or alarm clocks that gently but insistently tell you when to get up in the morning.

To insure correct time in your home . . . or for an anniversary, wedding or graduation present . . . . buy an electric clock.
