Guild Pushes Drive For Auburn Mercy Hospital

AUBURN—Spurred by priests of the Auburn deanery and the reorganized Men's Guild of Mercy Hospital, a campaign for $5,000 to be applied on the interest payments and to reduce the principal of indebtedness of the hospital is in full swing here. A membership in the Men's Guild of 4,000 or 5,000 men is the aim and each subscriber of $1 or more a membership card will be issued.

Report meetings are being made each Tuesday evening until the campaign closes on May 1 at the Auburn Knights of Columbus Home, Genesee Street.

Plans for the campaign were made at a meeting of 70 priests and prominent laymen of the city and county held, April 16, at Osborne Hotel.

Views endorsing the movement were expressed by the Rev. Dr. William E. Cowen, pastor of St. Mary's Church; the Rev. John B. Crowley, pastor of St. Aloysius Church; the Rev. Adolphe L. Gabbani, pastor of St. Francis d'Assisi Church; the Rev. Francis Harding, assistant pastor of Holy Family Church, speaking for the Very Rev. Dean John A. Conway, who was out of the city, and the Rev. Vincent Wolski, representing the Rev. Jerome Holubowicz, pastor of St. Hyacinth's Church.

Edward T. Boyle, deputy attorney general, called the session to order. He then turned the gavel over to Chairman William D. Ganey.

By unanimous vote, it was decided to place the Guild on a permanent basis, with William D. Ganey as chairman, Attorney Raymond S. Cuddy as secretary and Attorney T. Joseph Coffey as treasurer.

Michael G. Hatch, president of the Holy Name Society of St. Alphonsus Church, spoke in favor of the plan as did officers of the Holy Name Societies of the other parishes. Remarks of approval were also made by Charles M. Geherin, George M. Frank and Councilman James D. Quill of the Hospital Board of Trustees and Councilman Arthur J. Merriman.

HOLY FAMILY HIGH-LIGHTS

By MARY WILSON

AUBURN. — The Senate Club held another debate on April 24 on the proposition: "Should the powers of the Federal Government be extended?"

Defending the subject was William Ryan, John Doyle, Daniel Wesley and Raymond Wall.

Upholding the negative side were Alice Mohan, Rosemary Ryan, Eileen Richards and Mary Wilson.

Constructive criticism was given by other members of the club and by Mr. Rooney, instructor in debate.

During the Easter vacation the French Club purchased a set of statuettes dressed in the costumes of the twelve French provinces. The display of these gayly dressed dolls will be the feature of the coming meeting to be held soon. Action dialogues are being rehearsed for the presentation.

Funeral of John Carey

AUBURN—Funeral services for John Carey were held April 14 at the family home, 5 Parker Street, and at St. Mary's Church.

At the church, the Rev. Joseph McNamara sang a solemn high Mass of requiem. Rev Dr William E. Cowen was deacon and Rev. Leslie Whalen was subdeacon. The burial service was read by Father McNamara. Rev. Frederick G. Straub and Rev. Joseph O'Connell were in the sanctuary.

The Society of St. Vincent de Paul was established at Paris in 1833 by Antoine-Frederic Ozanam.

Barbara Burns To Have Star's Role

AUBURN — In the play, "What a Life," by Clifford Goldsmith, which is to be presented by the Lyceum Players of St. Mary's Church on Sunday, April 27, at 3:15 and on Tuesday evening at 8:15 in the auditorium of Central High School, Miss Barbara Burns plays the part of Miss Shea, secretary to Mr. Bradley, principal of the school which Henry Aldrich attends. This part was played by Ruth Matteson when the comedy was presented in the Biltmore Theater in New York City.

Miss Burns will be remembered for her outstanding performance in "The Royal Family." She characterized Julie, a take off on Ethel Barrymore and carried most of the responsibility for bringing some appearance of order among the erratic members of the Barrymore family. Miss Burns was commended by a critic of the drama for her ability to hold the scene at the most difficult times.

The part of Mr. Nelson, assistant principal of the school is played by Gibson Brown. Mr. Brown has had considerable experience in dramatics and played the leading role in Monsignor Benson's Passion Play, The Upper Room when he dramatized the part of Samuel, servant to Achaz, Lord of the Upper Room. He has taken an active interest in dramatics for several years and has taken part in several one-act plays both with the Lyceum Players and in school dramatics.

Everyone is working diligently to perfect this play and indications point to a large audience for this popular drama of Henry Aldrich.

That soul to whom God is all will not repine at any trial or wish to live in the esteem of creatures.
