Seven Women Receive Mercy Order Habit

In an impressive ceremony, seven young women received the habit of the Sisters of Mercy last Saturday at St. John the Evangelist Church. Following the intercession of each candidate by the Most Rev. James C. Keane, they withdrew to be clothed in the religious garb and white veil of the novice. The reception music with special arrangements by a Sister of Mercy, was furnished during the ceremony by the Sister's choir.

Those receiving the habit were Evelyn Rosa of St. Salome's; Sister M. Berchmans Berenice Nolan of Holy Apostles; Sister M. Baptist Gore Ringwood of Good Counsel; Sister M. Robert Rita Butts of St. Andrews; Sister M. Bernard Mary Coleman of Blessed Sacrament; Sister M. Mark Frances Taylor of St. Ignatius Parish; Horrell now known as Sister M. Lylvola and Florence Newman of Niagara Falls, Ontario known as Sister M. Vianney. Addresses Newly Received

The Bishop in addressing the newly received, selected as his text, "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God, with thy whole heart, thy whole mind and with thy whole strength." He pointed out that the young novices have accepted these vows in their severest form and have followed Christ more closely.

After the ceremony his Excellency celebrated the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass. Present in the sanctuary were Rev. Patrick J. Smith, chaplain of the Mercy Motherhouse, Rev. Lawrence E. Casey, vicar-general, Rev. John E. Sullivan, Rev. Edward J. Messner, Rev. Francis J. Luddy, Rev. George V. Eckl, Rev. John O'Donnell, Rev. Francis Klehammer, Rev. Benedict Ehman, Rev. Elmer Heindl, Rev. Reginald Cameron, Rev. Francis Heister, Rev. Michael O'Brien, Rev. William Nolan, Rev. Michael Peeney, Rev. John Brennan C. S. S. R. Rev. Maurice Miller S. J., Rev. Gerald Kelly, Rev. Joseph T. Mahoney, Rev. John J. Leary.

What New York State is doing to solve problems between industrial management and labor will be outlined by the Rev. John P. Boland, D.D., Buffalo chairman of the State Labor Relations Board at 9 P. M. Sunday, May 4, at St. Joseph's House of Hospitality, 402 South Ave. near Mt. Hope Ave.

An attendance which will tax the capacity of the building is expected to hear the Buffalo priest, who is respected throughout the state for his handling of labor disputes.

Sponsored by members of the Catholic Labor College and the Catholic Worker Group, Dr. Boland's address will mark the anniversary of the issue of the two famous encyclicals on capital and labor—the "Rerum Novarum" of Pope Leo XIII and the "Quadragesimo Anno" of Pope Pius XI.

Fr. Lesch To Sing First Mass In Auburn, Sunday

Raymond Lesch, now known in religion as the Rev. Albinus Lesch, C.P., was ordained to the Holy Priesthood by His Excellency, the Most Rev. Richard J. Cushing, D.D., Auxiliary to the Archbishop of Boston, in the Cathedral of the Holy Cross, Boston, Mass., today (Thursday), May 1.

Father Albinus will offer his first Solemn High Mass in St. Mary's Church, Auburn, Sunday, May 4 at 11 o'clock. The preacher for the occasion will be the Rt. Rev. Magr. William F. Bergan, Chancellor of the diocese. Officers of the Mass with Father Albinus will be Assistant Priest, the Rev. William E. Cowen, S.T.D., pastor of St. Mary's Church, Deacon, the Rev. Colman Healy, C.P., Subdeacon, the Rev. Donald Murphy, Master of Ceremonies, the Rev. Joseph McNamara. Reception Scheduled

A dinner for the clergy and relatives of Father Albinus in the gymnasium will be served Sunday at 1:30 P. M. This will be followed by a reception at the Lesch home, 11 Eastern Avenue, Auburn, Sunday afternoon, from 4 until 6. Father Lesch invites all his friends to participate in this Holy High Mass and will be happy to meet them at his home in the afternoon.

The newly ordained Passionist Father is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Lesch of St. Mary's parish, Auburn. He was graduated from St. Mary's School in 1928 and from Auburn High School in 1930. After studying a year in St. Andrew's Seminary, Rochester, he entered the Passionist Order. For the past ten years he has been pursuing his studies in preparation for the priesthood. He is at present stationed in St. Gabriel's Monastery in Brighton, Mass.

Members of the family who attended the ordination at Boston, today, were Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Lesch; their daughter, Mary E. Lesch, a student at Nazareth College, and their son, Dr. Gerald A. Lesch and his wife, Margaret Train Lesch. Present also were the Rev. Dr. William E. Cowen and the Rev. Joseph McNamara of St. Joseph's Church.

Eastern Rite Mass Offered At Seminary

The solemn liturgy of the Byzantine Rite was celebrated in the school chapel by the Rev. Basil Jurula on Friday, April 25, for the seminarians of St. Andrew's. This liturgy of the Mass used in the Eastern Church began the program of the Seminary's second annual "Oriental Day." A student from the Russian Eastern Rite monastery in Alberta, Canada, presided at Mass.

The afternoon was highlighted by speakers from the College Department who spoke on subjects allied to the correct observance of an "Oriental Day." William Hart outlined the development of the divergent liturgies from the first Mass—the Last Supper—and traced the development through the ages, showing the differences that have resulted from the true belief remaining constant.

A comparison of the Eastern liturgy and Western Mass was made by Charles Ryan who pointed out that despite apparent separation, the two are very much alike. John Mayer showed that while Eastern Religious Orders have "active apostolate" they devote themselves to a life of prayer and contemplation. The last speaker, Henry Atwell, pointed out that the way to bring the dissident Orthodox Church to Rome is by better knowledge and understanding.

After the students had finished their discussion, the Rev. Edward Lyons, Rector, pointed out that members of the Oriental Rite Church are as truly Catholic as are the members of the Latin Rite and that the members of the Mystical Body of Christ we should daily pray that they persevere in their faith now that their homelands—the Balkans, Russia and the Near East—are so ravaged by war, atheism and persecution.

The program was closed by Father Turula who gave Benediction according to the Rutherfordian custom. Approximately 100 fathers and sons gathered in Holy Family auditorium last Monday evening to take part in the first "Fathers and Sons" banquet. Rev. George Vogt, a former member of the Faculty of the Holy Family Seminary, entertained with humorous anecdotes of early days at the Seminary. Rev. Edward Lyons, Rector, spoke in commendation of the pleasant program and expressed a wish that it become an annual affair. William Conrad acted as toastmaster. Sport pictures of numerous events were shown as a highlight of the evening.

Knights of Columbus Choral Society members are preparing for their Twenty-Second Annual Concert to be given in Columbus Civic Auditorium on Wednesday evening, May 14. This group of well-trained singers meet to sing in the various church choirs of the city and will present a balanced program of wide appeal. President Theodore J. Houck announced this week.

Directing the chorus in concert and rehearsal is John Paul Bonorganist and choir director of St. Peter and Paul's Church with John J. Poganski, choir director and organist of St. Basil's Church at the piano. Most of the numbers on this year's program will be sung a capella. They include Brahms' Lullaby, Schubert's Berenide, Kilnary and others.

IN ONE EAR

Arthur Godfrey, known as "Mike-man" Godfrey, started in broadcasting as a banjo player and singer, doing sustaining programs while in the United States Coast Guard. He got his release from the Navy and became an announcer on WKAJ, New York, and subsequently shifted to Washington, D. C., over WDC where he won the dictation award for announcers in a short time. He originated a program called "The Sun Dial" a participation type program and within a short time it was the dominant program Washington enjoyed for early morning. His success on the "Sun Dial" type of program has been phenomenal and at times he has had as many as 25 or 30 sponsors that keep coming back year after year. Especially so since the program shifted to WJW, in Washington, D. C.

In April, 1939, the Carnation Company made its first test with Godfrey over WOPR, New York. Sales increased immediately and with the beginning of 1940 the Godfrey program became a network show covering 11 cities. In January, 1941, Carnation changed its policy and began using electrical transcriptions, selecting an outstanding station in each city for the Godfrey program. The results must have proved gratifying because on April 2nd the program is to be extended to an additional 30 cities.

Godfrey sings, plays the piano, accompanied by an organist and guitar player, and gives a terrific commercial. The loyalty of his listeners is astounding. They are interested in Godfrey as an artist—they are interested in his family and his farm outside of Washington—and they write him constantly. This program is heard over WIAM every Wednesday and Friday at 9 A. M.

Honor David Harum in His Old Home Town David Harum, the rascally but lovable old Yankee horse trader of Hamer, N. Y., immortalized by Edward Noyes Westcott in a novelized biography which became one of the best sellers of all time, transformed into a sensational popular Broadway play, and now the basis for a highly successful radio drama serial on WIAM, was honored in a special celebration, April 24 in this city when he died.

The observance included a special broadcast over Station WYFR, and was centered at Harum's 120-year-old, 13-room home at 30 South Main Street in the little town of Hamer, 35 miles from this city.

Those who participated included: Mayor John Briggs of Hamer, Attorney William C. Mather, present occupant of the house, and two old timers, a sign painter and a cattle herder, who related circumstances surrounding some of the shrewd "swaps" which Dave engaged in before his death 30 years ago.

Crucifixes Perpetuate Memory of Cathedral

Occasionally an opportunity presents itself to perpetuate the memory of a place or event in the not too distant past, which the City of Rochester has taken it upon himself to maintain available some little remembrance of Old St. Patrick's Cathedral in those parishes of the year ago which can recall a little of the story of this famous Church opened March 17, 1869, by Bishop Bernard J. McQuaid.

Old St. Patrick's Cathedral was the home of the now deceased Bishop Thomas F. Hickey and Bishop John Francis O'Brien. Their memory will always linger on, closely associated with the beloved cathedral over which they so lovingly have labored. St. Patrick's has also been the home of another who has since moved on to guide the great Archdiocese of Detroit. Archbishop Edward McQuaid was the fourth bishop of Rochester, resigning here from 1882 to 1897.

To perpetuate this memory, Mr. Wegman has fashioned crucifixes from the wooden doors of the Old Cathedral. They are designed in different sizes and may be had in oak, walnut or oak with either bronze or silver colored corpus.

On each crucifix the following inscription appears: "St. Patrick's Cathedral, Rochester, N. Y. Opened March 17, 1869. Dedicated Nov. 9, 1870. Closed forever, Sept. 15, 1939, 8 P. M. This sacred wood taken from the House of God and its portals to Heaven." Mr. Wegman can be reached at Oliver 440, Oliver 286-441.
