Aid To All Suffering Nations Short Of War Urged By Archbishop

WASHINGTON — (N.C.) — Aid short of war by the people of the United States to any "suffering nation" and prayers that this country remain at peace were urged here by the Most Rev. of Baltimore and of Washington, Archbishop Curley, at the annual meeting of the Sodality Union of Washington held at Gonzaga College.

"Whatever happens we are not in a position to decide," Archbishop Curley said. "War or peace, as I see it, is going to happen and when it does we must be loyal to our Government and work with it to the utmost with all our strength in the hope that it all might end soon."

"Our Holy Father has asked us to spend the month of May as much as we can in fervent prayer to the Mother of Christ, our King and Saviour, the God of Peace, asking her that the present conditions in Europe and all over the world may cease and that we may have peace," the Archbishop said.

"Millions have died, countries have been ruined and liberties are gone, while little children have lost fathers and mothers and only the good God knows where they are today. Some have been found wandering the fields of France, Belgium and other countries, not knowing their own names or being able to tell who they were. Churches of God have been torn to ruins, great hospitals and great educational institutions have gone the same way. We are seeing something man never saw before, never thought of. There was nothing like it in the last war, called the Great War, even though no war is great. War is a curse. Our Holy Father and we are losing everything in peace you lose nothing."

"Therefore, we are asked in this country to thank God we have peace, in a way, and to pray fervently for the return of peace to the rest of the world. We Americans ought to pray for peace in our land. Twenty-four years ago we were in the big war to save democracy. We produced a crop of dictators. Copperhead or no copperhead, I hope and pray the American youth of this nation will never again have to travel thousands of miles over sea and land to down their lives for any nation. What came out of the last war? Non-payment of debts without a word.

"We, of course, respect the authority the Government have over us. When the issue comes, we have faith and will do our duty one hundred per cent. For the present, let us pray and let us hope and let us place our hands in Mary that we shall remain at peace. What are we going to gain by another war? And in asking that I am not talking with any feeling against any nation."

The Archbishop cited the horrors of war in England, where he said he has two nieces who are Superiors of convents, one in Southampton. The nun in Southampton has lost the convent and school, he related, and she herself has been living "half underground in a shelter" for a year and a half.

"If we can bring aid to a suffering nation, very well," he said. "I often wonder if there is any single suffering nation. What about the French? What about the Belgians? What about the Spanish?"

"I do repeat that I hope for peace that America will not enter the war and that the day will never come when we have to declare war. I hope the good God will give wisdom to our leaders to see that at the end we shall have no losses."

Urging his hearers, and all Americans, to keep on their knees, Archbishop Curley said:

"We ask for peace through the intercession of our Blessed Mother Mary, the peaceful, quiet, strong woman who stood by the Cross of Jesus Christ in His moments of agony, we ask that she will bring sense to men who are fighting for only more power, driven by economic greed. Bring sense to their minds and make them learn that peace is the only thing worthwhile. Peace of soul depends upon union with the good God. So long as the man-made God is put out of the heart of man, man has no peace. So long as the dictator, the man-made God, is the law, there will be no peace."

ST. BONA'S TO EXHIBIT COPY OF FAMOUS BIBLE

ST. BONAVENTURE, N. Y. — In connection with the Bible Week which St. Bonaventure College is holding from May 11 to 18, the Rev. Ironeus Herzog, O. M. I., librarian of the college, has announced today that a copy of the famous Devereux Bible, which is part of the rare book collection of the Friedman Memorial Library, will be among the featured displays.

Nicholas Devereux, who was instrumental in bringing the Franciscan Friars to Western New York and the founding of St. Bonaventure College and Seminary, was responsible for having the first inexpensive edition of the New Testament in this country printed and circulated. In 1828, when a Douay Bible was scarcely to be had, he purchased, with Lewis Willcocks of New York, a set of stereotype plates of the New Testament in this version in Dublin. From these plates Seward and Williams, of Utica, N. Y., printed numerous editions.

Mr. Devereux became afterwards the sole owner of these plates, and sold them to Messrs. Sadlier by whom over 40,000 copies were printed and put into circulation.

In his latest plea for the prayers of the faithful, especially the children, for the return of peace to the world, Pope Pius XII reminds us that "we have at the throne of Almighty God the most amiable Mother of God and our Mother who, through her intercession, powerful intercession can certainly obtain for us all the favors she asks of Him."

Indian Fidelity

Brothers to our American Indian are the members of Mexico's Yaqui tribe. From the words of Rev. Nicholas Peresch, O.F.M., we have every reason to be proud of these neighbors of the South for against obstacles and privations they have fought successfully.

"The Yaqui profess the Catholic religion," says Father Peresch, "and are considered the most religious of the tribes in northwestern Mexico. Unfortunately, few priests have been provided for them. Nevertheless, they themselves have done their best to keep up their religion. Large groups, sometimes as many as a thousand persons at one time, venture out of their places of refuge and trek to San Xavier Mission for the baptism and confirmation of their children, and for Christian marriage."

"As a result some of these Indians have remained in Arizona, those forming a colony at Tucson and another at Tempe. According to law, Indians may pass back and forth freely across the international boundaries but they maintain their native citizenship and Catholicity."

The Rodas Come

A storm seems but a little trial in this day of worldwide bombardments, yet its terror is very real, particularly in exposed areas such as the metropolitan stations. At 1:20 A. M., the terrible storm hit Fiji causing widespread havoc and distress especially to the Catholic mission stations. "At 1:20 A. M., the wind became more and more violent, my first thought was of the Leger Chapel completed only two years ago. It had been fixed solidly with metallic ropes for the duration of the hurricane season but we had to see to windows and doors, since the building, almost directly on the sea shore, was right in the path of the hurricane. We managed to close everything on time, however, in its fall, a coconut tree had broken some window panes and the rain easily found its way into cupboards and trunks. The building was preserved and a Mass of Thanksgiving offered for each protection.

Every man's "General" in this Army...

Maybe you don't know a howitzer from a mess kit. But you can easily spot a Division Commander from a "buck" private — by the cut and fit of his clothes! It's the same in private life. Why look like a "buck" — when it's so simple to dress like a "General"? A few minutes at Bond's will show you the difference. For one thing, the difference between Rochester tailoring and the ordinary kind. Those smooth shoulders, that easy drape, and the smart flat-hipped fit of your Bond suit carry an air of importance. What's more, Bond's custom-styled fabrics quietly set you apart from the crowd. They tell us even our prices rate a 21-gun salute. Do you wonder Bond's "army" of boosters is the largest in America?
