Girls Encamp August 10 At Stella Maris

Final preparations for the encampment of Stella Maris for the first time this year are being made this week. The girls will enter Stella Maris Monday, August 10 and will begin two one-week encampments.

The complete camp staff of Stella Maris has been selected, as well as a camp nurse. "Star Dust" the seventy "camp" book of Stella Maris has been revised as a new edition for the girls.

Also published for the girls is an original song book, "Campfire Melodies," containing nearly two dozen songs and parodies for camp songsters.

The registration office announces that the girls' encampments are nearly full, and urges anyone interested to call the camp office in the Columbus Civic Centre immediately. Only advance registrants can be accepted, as campers, after the encampment begins.

'I'll Remember Her That Way'

By MICHAEL SHEKA "The old love of country surged up in me as I dined last night... I'll remember her that way... With head held high and mind toward God, with children playing in the park, with lovers and green trees and singing birds, despite wars and pain and despair despite an official envelope with black seal Mercedes of Our Lady of Mercy High School.

By LUCIA MALLORY "I was walking to the library one morning last June. I met Patty Ellis on her bicycle. 'Guess what I'm doing this summer Miss Mallory?' she cried 'I'm earning my own money picking berries at a farm out on the hill road.'
