By ART KELLY
Jerry Lester Signed
As KMH Fixture

So impressed with the comedy possibilities of Jerry Lester was Bing Crosby, that he decided to postpone vacation plans long enough to let Lester testify into the pattern of his full-hour variety show heard over WHAM Thursdays at 9:00 P. M. EDT. Now comes announcement that Lester has been signed to a contract which will keep him working in the city definitely through December, 1941, with options running for several years. Lester is another comedy product turned out by the old "Rudy Valdez Hour" which was responsible for the rise to radio prominence of Edgar Bergen and Charlie McCarthy. Bob Burns, Tommy Ruggs, the late Joe Penner and many others. While Rudy was on the West Coast during the Summer of 1937, Lester filled the comedy spot on the show several times in a row. Since then Jerry Lester has made many radio appearances and is popular for his night club routines across the country. He will be heard regularly with Don Meche, Connie Boswell, Ken Carpenter, the Music Makers and John Scott Trotter's orchestra after Bing starts his vacation the end of the month.

How To Be A Sound

(Effects) Man
Who's Yehoodi? That's easy. He's the sound effects man. You know the fellow who opens the door that leads from nowhere into nothingness, who is tapping, slamming, smashing, opening and closing doors for a long time now in the NBC Chicago studios but I have yet to see anyone go through one.

There's some consolation in the thought that the doors take a worse beating than we knockers do. We've got about 25 different kinds of doors but they're always wearing out for one reason or another. If it isn't the hinges, it's the knobs. About every six months we roll each door into the sound effects shop for a general overhauling.

That calls for a bit of ingenuity. We don't send these doors out to repairmen. These are very special and temperamental doors. Each one has its own peculiarities. So when something goes haywire, only a sound man can fix it. It follows, then, that unless you have the proper understanding of and respect for doors, the chances are that you'll never rise to the heights as a sound engineer.

Sound effects men are born, not made. The tricks of the trade are many and devious. Their perfect execution call for imagination, mechanical genius, and a sense of timing. Let's consider some qualifications.

The script calls for a traffic scene in a small community. To achieve the proper effect you have to visualize a small town, far from Chicago's Loop or New York's Times Square. Creating the sound to go with the dialogue in a scene like this is duck soup for me. While still in grammar school I once spent a week of my Summer vacation visiting Aunt Emma out in Podunk.

Timing is also most important. We have the best equipment to work with, but what good is it if the sound isn't tied in where intended in the script? Missing a cue has caused many a director's hair to turn gray in a fraction of a second. Naturally, when something does mess up the works it's the director's fault. Just ask any sound man.

So, if your pa and ma still think you ought to be a sound effects technician you're well on your way to a brilliant career as a top-notch door-slammng, telephone-jangling sound effects man.

Relief Appeal Gets Generous Response

A generous and gratifying response to His Excellency, Bishop Kearney's appeal for funds for the sufferers and exiles of all nations is reported at the Chancery as returns are being made this week. The funds collected in this diocese will be forwarded to the Bishop's Relief Committee in Washington.

The national committee of Bishops, this week, presented $1000 to the American Red Cross to be used in the relief of suffering in war-torn China.

The Bishop's Committee is composed of the members of the National Catholic Welfare Conference, with the Most Rev. Edward Mooney, Archbishop of Detroit, as Chairman, and coordinates the various relief activities of the American Hierarchy. The presentation was made to Chairman Norman H. Davis of the American Red Cross through the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Michael J. Ready, General Secretary of the N. C. W. C.

This latest addition to the already large contributions made by American Catholics to China's relief comes at a time when Red Cross officials declare the need in China to be "critical," and to be aggravated by malarial conditions of growing intensity.

Coldwater Parish Fete Set Aug. 5, 6

The Chicken Supper and Lawn Festival program which has been attracting crowds to Church of the Holy Ghost grounds, Coldwater Road, for 40 years will be held on Tuesday and Wednesday, August 5 and 6 with plans being made to keep high the standard of former years. Supper will be served from 5:30 to 8:30 p. m. each night and tickets are 80c.

Plans are under the direction of the Rev. Joseph C. Wurzer, pastor, who is general chairman. Women of the parish are looking after the dining room and kitchen and the men are taking care of the grounds.

Several attractions and amusements are being prepared to entertain parishioners, former parishioners and friends of Holy Ghost Church who attend the affair each year.

'FRONT PORCH FORUMS' AIM AT SPREADING AMERICANISM TRUTHS

With varied forums in existence today, the latest is the "Front Porch Forum" which has for its objective not organization but simply the dissemination of Americanism truths.

A group of neighbors gathering on the porch of Joseph Melody 111, Chilly Avenue, recently conceived the idea that what is needed today is to "Know America First." This group is advocating through literature and perpetual calendars printed at their own expense the revival of interest in the Constitution, the Bill of Rights and the words of Washington, Lincoln, Webster and other great Americans.

Taking up collection among themselves the group had printed attractive calendars. Mr. Melody is a former advertising man and he assisted in laying out the calendar. Pledge of allegiance to the flag, warnings against subversive elements, and the "Bill of Rights" adopted by the University of San Francisco Jesuit institution go along with the calendar.

The calendar carries the original bill of rights from the Constitution. "With Mr. Melody, the original 'Front Porch Forum' group includes Adrian Powers, Barry Budlong, Daniel Webster, Fred C. Crombach and Harry Trezise, all of whom contributed $50 for the first batch of calendars, and Ray Hyland of the Ryland Flying Service, who contributed $70.

The idea of starting their own "Front Porch Forums" was so well received that 4,000 copies of the calendar were placed in the hands of people who showed interest. A second order for 5,000 was placed and the entire movement is being carried on "in the spirit that actuated the patriots of Colonial days," Mr. Melody states.

Verein Units Given Convention Motto

"We stand at the cross roads of a new era in history. A great social revolution is at hand. To guide its course into proper channels is the task of every statesman today. But the task is too great for the mind and hand of a single man. We all must work together to see that the task shall be properly done. To accomplish this, however, requires the cooperation of all. Such thought must precede social action. Hence, there falls upon us all the duty to make fully our own by thought, study and discussion, the social ideas of the great Pope of the workingman."—Leo XIII.

With this in mind delegates and members of the Rochester Branches of the Catholic Central Verein and the National Catholic Women's Union will assemble in special meeting Friday evening, August 1, at 8:15 P. M. in St. Joseph's Basement Hall.

All are again cordially invited to join the Special Excursion, "Your Leaving Rochester for New York," Friday August 15 at 1:20 P. M. All interested should contact, Charles H. Mura, 100 Weaver St., Stone 548-1, or Mrs. Lorelei Rittenhaler, 192 Ames St., Genesee 2791-R.

Villa Maria Opens Camp To Boys; 90 Girls End Camp

July 26 saw ninety happy girl campers recording their original compositions in memory of the success of the first Catholic Camp in Chemung County. These records and motion pictures will tell the story of the day days spent on Harris Island which with, perhaps, stimulates interest in this splendid project.

The swimming meet on Friday afternoon was climaxed by an outdoor campfire at which prizes were awarded to the winners from the junior, intermediate and senior groups. The Infant of Prague statues went to the ten girls who were judged the best campers. One was awarded from each cabin on the basis of personality, unselfishness and cooperation.

Seventy-seven boys registered on Sunday, the 27th, for their camp period, which will close on Aug. 8. With the Rev. Francis E. Vogt as the Reverend Director and Eugene "Spanky" McFarland as Head Counselor, the future of Villa Maria is being established. The staff of Father Vogt's staff are Capt. Benjamin Flynn, American Red Cross Water Safety Instructor, Cusky Ruback, who will be in charge of the camp, and James Nelson, who will plan the programs for campers.

William Reed will have charge of Dramatics, Joseph Navone, study and discussion, the social ideas of the great Pope of the workingman. Vincent Weiler, Nature; Paul McCarthy, Hikes; William Stowell will be responsible for the office and canteen.

Junior Counselors are Patrick Bonagiere, Dino Carulli, William Maloney and Edward Kelly who will direct maintenance of camp. Mr. William Jones and Mrs. Chester Lambert are the Camp cooks, who have already established a reputation for the Camp by the quality of the meals served to the girls.

Parents and friends of the campers are invited to Camp on Thursday, July 31 at 8 o'clock, daylight time. Visitors will also be welcome on Sunday afternoon between 2 and 5 o'clock, daylight time. The cooperation of parents in the raising of this rule will be appreciated. (The full enrollment appears in the next column, this page.)

Asked For 16 Pianos For Soldiers; Got 44

ST. LOUIS.—When the Rev. Hubert A. Maino, Chaplain at Ford Leonard Wood, Mo., attended the Summer School of Music in London here two weeks ago, the St. Louis Federation of Societies inquired how it could help. Father Maino said 16 pianos were needed for the camp and officers of the Federation said they would try and get them. An appeal was issued. Now Miss Lenore Kerber, field secretary, has 44 pianos on her hands. She said the remaining 28 would be offered to other camps.
