

August FUR Parade

A grey Inker Lamb sweater with the graceful swing back, moose-shoulder, and button pockets—
at
W. J. QUINN CO., 31 East Ave.

A grey Inker Lamb sweater with the graceful swing back, moose-shoulder, and button pockets—
at
W. J. QUINN CO., 31 East Ave.

A very fine Russian Persian Lamb in the new Princess style, featuring the smart, new fluid shoulders—
at
J. E. THOMPSON, 71 Clinton Ave. South

Grey Kidskin Princess coat with the new dolman sleeve, snugest of waist, and new flare skirt line—
at PROJANSKY'S, 39 East Ave.

Russian Carracul in the formalized fitted coat with small turned down collar, flowing sleeves and a very different puffed front—
at
BERNARD WELD INC., 66 East Ave.

WARE of the difficult times ahead, Rochester fur dealers have secured large orders of fine furs while they are yet available. Combining the skill of trained workers with the natural beauty of choice pelts, these representative dealers are offering Rochester women what may be their last opportunity to obtain the high quality of fur coats to which they are accustomed.

A PRESENTATION BY THE Catholic Courier
Official Newspaper of the Rochester Diocese