Nazareth College in the News

The three-day annual retreat of Nazareth College begins Wednesday, Nov. 12 and continues until Friday afternoon. This retreat is one of the outstanding features of the year and is one which is eagerly awaited by every girl at Nazareth. During these days, no classes are held but in their places a spiritual program is carried out. This year, these exercises will be conducted by Msgr. Martin Hellriegel as Retreat Master.

Saturday, Nov. 15, promises to be a big day for the Freshmen. The whole class is busy making plans for the "Freshman Frolic," the traditional tea dance of the first-year students.

Nazareth girls were honored by a visit paid them Tuesday by Madeline Skeffly Foust, Dean Foust is well-known as a speaker and a writer throughout America. She has given lectures on Theater Drama, Good Manners Personality and Parliamentary Law. Twenty plays written by her have been produced in the country.

As well as a professional, Mrs. Foust has an outstanding academic background: from Seton Hill College she holds the Bachelor of Arts degree, from Duquesne University, the Master of Arts, a Certificate from the American Academy and for several years she was Dean of Women at Duquesne University.

To be farinette for a night! The ambition of a lifetime can be realized on Nov. 14. The much talked-about Barn Dance to be held at the Old Red Barn is on the program for that night. The following committee have been kept stepping getting ready for the big event:

Chairman of Tickets, Nancy McCaffery; Dorothy Walther, Patricia Doyle, Florence Sims, Katherine Coon, Mary Anne O'Grady, Mary Elizabeth Meisenzahl and Alice Hohman.

This is just a reminder of the Fiesta coming Nov. 8. A word to the wise...

PFC Hughes Marries Miss DiPasquale

On Saturday morning (Nov. 1) at the Church of the Assumption Mt. Morris, Miss Frances DiPasquale, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles DiPasquale, became the bride of Private 1st Class James T. Hughes, stationed at Fort McCollan, Alameda, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hughes.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dominic J. Grasso pastor and the couple were attended by Edward Hughes, brother of the groom and Miss Rose Maggio. Following the ceremony High Mass was celebrated by the Rev. Edward Schied, pastor of St. Mary's Church, Dansville.

Both Private and Mrs. Hughes, residents of Mt. Morris, are graduates of St. Patrick's School and Private Hughes is a former Warden of the Dansville Council.
