Diocese Bombed, Satisfied If Mass Is Said In Huts

By GEORGE BARNARD
LONDON (N.C.) If my term of office as Bishop sees only a succession of huts and sheds converted to the worship of God I shall be more than satisfied," the new Bishop of Portsmouth the Most Rev. J. H. King said in his first pastoral letter.

The Bishop's Diocese has been badly bombed and many fine churches have been destroyed. His own Cathedral and Bishop's house have been severely damaged, and the Channel Islands which form part of the diocese are in German hands. Bishop King announces that a dilapidated tin shed which was built for a garage and which afterwards served as a roadside snack-bar is being fitted up as a chapel at Medford a growing district in Hampstead five miles from an existing church.

The building had been an eyesore for many years on the old pilgrims road which runs between Winchester and Canterbury. When I was in the district a couple of months ago the site had been bought by Dr. Denis Gwynn, well known author and had been offered to the Bishop. The Bishop has now accepted the offer gratefully as his pastoral disclosure.

Dr. Gwynn, who tells me that there are about 50 Catholics in the district including Stanley B. Janz, also a well-known author, has had the old building transformed ingeniously using the old material.

St. Bonaventure's College Activities

The collection of rare old books in Friedman Memorial Library at St. Bonaventure College was enhanced this week by the presentation by the Rev. Mother Jean Marie, O.S.F., of a 360-year-old historical volume entitled, "The History of the Pitiful Life and Unfortunate Death of Edward the Fifth . . . with the Troublesome and Tyrannical Government of usurping Richard the Third, and his Miserable End."

This precious book was written by Sir Thomas More, martyred Chancellor of Henry VIII in 1535, and the volume which was given to the Rev. Ireneus Herscher, O.F.M., college librarian was printed in London during 1641. It was presented to St. M. Alarcon, O.S.F., who gave it to Rev. Mother Jean Marie and is now stationed in the British West Indies by a Miss Roper said to be a direct descendant of Margaret Roper, the eldest daughter of the author. Bound in its original calf and still in satisfactory condition the volume is in More's best literary style and is expected to prove helpful and interesting to students of fifteenth century England.

St. Bonaventure College participated Wednesday morning in the celebration of the silver jubilee of one of its best known alumni, the Rev. Leo J. Toomey, R.A., O.M.A., held in Our Mother of Good Counsel Church, Bladell Erie County.

The Very Rev. Thomas Plassmann, O.F.M., president of St. Bonaventure, preached the sermon in connection with the Solemn High Jubilee Thanksgiving Mass held in the Bladell church which charge Fr. Toomey heads. The celebration also commemorated the 30th anniversary of the church.

Accompanying the Very Rev. Father Thomas were the Rev. Arcadius Loop, O.F.M., registrar and the Rev. David Bauer, O.F.M., professor of religion. A native of Niagara Falls, Father Toomey has headed a number of pastorates in the Lake Shore frontier area.

The Red Cross roll-call first to be held at St. Bonaventure College is progressing satisfactorily. It was announced today. The campaign being conducted in co-operation with the local Chapter American Red Cross, is under the general chairmanship of the Very Rev. Thomas Plassmann, O.F.M., president, who is being assisted by the Rev. Victor Mills, O.F.M., and Prof. John L. Worden, faculty director, and Victor Tofany, president of the Student Senate, who is directing the drive among the collegians.

FIRST FORTY HOURS SERVICE HELD IN SOUTHERN TOWN

BURLINGTON, N. C. The first Forty Hours devotion ever held in this town have been concluded at Blessed Sacrament Church.

Burlington has very few Catholics among its population of 12,161 but hundreds of men in uniform have attended services at Blessed Sacrament Church each week during the Carolina maneuvers of the United States Army.

Each evening of the Forty Hours Catholics and non-Catholics filled the church for special services, at which sermons were given by the Rev. Thomas F. Kearney, pastor of Holy Angels Church, Mt. Airy, N. C.

Getting On In The World

There's only one type of person in the world who can get others to do things for him even though they don't like him," says Father Richard Rooney, S.J., of Boston. "That type is the Dictator Hitler. If you don't believe it ask the Nazis about Mr. Hitler. Or coming near home, ask the draftees about their top sergeant. For the rest of us, it is necessary that people should like us before they'll do anything for us. If they don't like us, then they'll not do what we ask even though they might want to do it anyway for themselves.

To put yourself over to others you must first find out how to let them put themselves over to you. If you know people understand them like they then they'll be drawn to you too.

Sometimes sit down and list the traits that you like in others, the things that draw you to them. Read your list over and then get going. Make those traits your own. Human nature being essentially the same in all of us people will like you for the same reason that you like them.

The safest way to get a great deal of things, at the expense of self is contact with others. The higher, better, nobler the personality with whom we come in contact the greater the benefit to ourselves. That is why meeting Christ and His Mother is the most enlightening experience a man can have.

"Unless you are an angel or a saint, you have found things that do need improvement. On the other hand there is nothing that most people like to do less than set about improving themselves; for improvement means change and change is essentially painful. You are the only person who can do anything about it. Build up in yourself new habits slowly and surely, being satisfied for a time with puny triumphs until your confidence is built up that you can go to bigger things. Never quit. No matter how many defeats you may suffer on the way, always carry on."
