Drive To Make Pope's Peace Aims Known

Pope Cites Mutual Trust As Church-State Need Now

By Msgr. Enrico Pucci.

VATICAN CITY—(N. C.)—When beneficial, loyal and reciprocal trust exists between ecclesiastical and civil authorities, that happy harmony produces the abundant strength needed more than ever today in all fields of labor. His Holiness Pope Pius XII said Sunday.

PRESS SPEAKER

Rev. Francis X. Talbot, S.J.

The Sovereign Pontiff reiterated that the Church does not want to be involved in disputes regarding different forms of purely political institutions and activities. At the same time, His Holiness pointed out the Church neither wants to nor can it refuse to be the light and guide of conscience in all questions of principle in which human programs or activities run the risk of forgetting or neglecting the eternal foundation of Divine Law.

Unselfish Help. All that aims at the diffusion, consolidation and perfection of works of social assistance to the poorest of the poor and gives honor and place to the physical and moral welfare of youth the Holy Father said is activity to which the Church ardently desires to offer the unselfish help of the Good Samaritan. The Church, Pope Pius XII said, is preparing large numbers of her children, members of the laity as well as religious men and women for cooperation in the work of social safety and progress which he said is one of the more urgent duties of our times.

The occasion of the Sovereign Pontiff's discourse was the presentation of credentials by Jose Manuel Lobos, Argentina's new Ambassador to the Holy See.

Pope Pius XII said that his first personal touch with Latin America was at Buenos Aires, where he attended the International Eucharistic Congress as the Legate of Pope Pius XI. Around the altar erected in the Piazza Palermo the Holy Father said he saw the people of Argentina in prayer, the government in prayer, the army in prayer, and that all were united in one heart and one soul in the liturgical homage they paid to the Successor of St. Peter.

U. S. Bishops Launch Campaign To Stress Papal Peace Points

WASHINGTON—(N. C.) The Church in the United States is launching upon a determined effort to bring to the attention of as many people as possible the peace points of His Holiness Pope Pius XII.

With the flames of war enveloping much of the globe and threatening the entire world with ultimate ruin and disaster the Archbishops and Bishops of this country are seeking to call to the attention of all who will heed the basic principles which the Holy Father says must underlie any peace that is to be lasting and just.

To this end the Annual General Meeting of the Bishops just held at the Catholic University of America here authorized the Administrative Board of the National Catholic Welfare Conference to appoint a special committee to promote the study and widespread dissemination of the Sovereign Pontiff's peace points.

The Most Rev. Samuel A. Stritch, Archbishop of Chicago, the Most Rev. James H. Ryan, Bishop of Omaha, and the Most Rev. Abbot J. Muench, Bishop of Fargo, were named by the Administrative Board to constitute this special committee.

The special committee is entering upon its work immediately. It is expected shortly to announce its first steps in carrying out the will of the Archbishops and Bishops of the United States.

Christmas Message Recalled

In a dramatic Christmas Message given to the world on Dec. 24, 1938, Pope Pius XII revealed that it was with "indescribable anguish" that he watched the current war begin and spread "in such unusual circumstances." Calling attention to the fact that war causes devastation while it is being waged and widespread suffering even after it is over, the Holy Father said "such considerations of the present and future must cause much concern to the leaders and some members of every people, even in the fever of war, and cause them to examine the effect and effect on the aims and justifiable ends of war."

Pope Pius XII then outlined five principles which must form the basis of a just and honorable peace. He said the first fundamental condition must assure the right to life and independence of all nations, large or small, strong or weak. His Holiness added that "nations must be liberated from the heavy slavery of armaments and the danger that material force instead of serving to protect rights, become the tyrannical violator of them" that "any reorganization of international neighborliness should conform with the maximum of human wisdom for all parties concerned to
