PRICE-TAG HEALTH. People who would never think of mending their own shoes, or performing other personal services, will too often attempt something far more difficult. Cut your own hair, if necessary—but don't try to be your own Doctor, just to save a small fee. Health is too precious to be price-tagged. Don't take chances. Go to see a competent physician at the first indication of ill-health. Then, have his prescriptions filled here, where you are assured competent service and fresh, potent drugs. EARL LESLIE KELLY.
