we, with this their seventh ransom. It is to go to Selma, also, and the name selected by Robert Doran's winning team is Mary Teresa. The Third Graders who are working so very hard to make many more ransoms, are putting in a request for John Edward.

NEWSWEEK

The leaders of the Mission March this morning are those very faithful lads from Nazareth Hall. The Eighth, Sixth and Third grades are here, each with a ransom of a pagan baby, Martin Ralph, the two first names of the boys contributing the most money.

John Griffin of the Fifth Grade of Blessed Sacrament School tells us that the boys won the race in her grade and that they decided on a little mission baby boy who is to be named John Aloysius. Elizabeth Sullivan and Gary Smith are the godparents. Joan assures us that they are working hard for the next ransom, for which we are very, very grateful.

The First and Second Graders of Nativity School in Brockport would like a little Indian boy named James Joseph. Thank you so much, and you can be sure that we shall fill your order. Rose Agnes is the selection of a name for the little Chinese baby ransomed by the Fifth and Sixth Grades of St. John's, Clyde. Many thanks; these poor people will be so glad of this assistance.
