LIBRARY NOTES

"I PRAY THE MASS" SUNDAY MASSAL. Hoover Edition. 4th Pages. New York: Catholic Book Publishing Co.

This is the handiest, most practical, most up-to-date Sunday Missal that we have ever handled. The reasons for our preference is that the type is really legible and will not hurt one's eyes; that the Revised English Edition of the New Testament has been used throughout; also that the book, prepared by a professor of Notre Dame University, has the approbation of Bishop Noll of Fort Wayne, who is our foremost expert in religious literature. Other advantages and improvements are these: the Hoover Missal contains fourteen Prefaces, much different from any other missal; each Mass begins with a "Thought for Today" taken from the Mass, which may help the people to a good Sunday meditation of the priest to a good sermon; a "Thought for the Week" follows almost all Masses; the Treasury of Prayers contains religious instructions on devotions dear to all Catholics and the devotional themselves. Last but not least, there is a liturgical calendar good for the next ten years which is a source of practicalness and accuracy.

HANDBALL CHAMPION of the C. Y. A., John Odenbach, left, is congratulated by "Chuck" Ward at Columbus Civic Centre where championship was decided Sunday.

Wins C. Y. A. Handball Title

John Odenbach won the final match of the C. Y. A. Handball Tournament on the C. Y. A. courts by defeating Chuck Ward by the scores of 11-21, 21-6 and 21-20. The three games were well played and the spectators saw some of the best handball ever witnessed on the C. Y. A. courts. Ward found the going comparatively easy in the first game with a 21-11 victory and did Odenbach in the second game with a 21-0.

At one time during the third game Ward was leading Odenbach 14 to 2 and Odenbach, with a persistent smashing drive, brought the score up to seventeen all. Ward again forged ahead to the score of 20 to 17 but found it impossible to put in the final point as Odenbach brought the score up to 20 all. With the point game score there were several side-outs until Odenbach caught Ward out of position and put in the final count and won the title of C. Y. A. Handball Singles Champion for the 41-42 season.
