Bishop Lauds Irish-Americans' Love Of Country In Elmira K. C. Address

In a brilliant address to more than 350 guests at the annual St. Patrick's banquet of Elmira Council, Knights of Columbus, Andrew C. McCarthy, assistant district attorney of Bronx County, Sunday night at the Mark Twain Hotel warned that the destiny of the United States rests on the spiritual training given the youth of our country.

His Excellency, Bishop James E. Kearney of Rochester, was a special guest of honor. He praised the role of Irish-Americans in preserving and guarding the rights established by the Constitution. He pointed to the virtues of faith, charity and love of country as outstanding characteristics of Americans of Irish descent, declaring that these three attributes are symbolized by the leaves in the shamrock.

"While the Irish may be divided on many issues, their love of country remains unshaken. The Kellys and the Cronins and the O'Briens fighting for their country are proof of this," he declared.

Taking as his topic, "The Second Line of Defense - the Boy," Mr. McCarthy said that today man is living in an age both eloquent and perilous. And, having reached great heights in many fields, "man seems to be basking in their sunshine of his own achievements," he said.

Asking what could best define what America stood for, he said that the preamble to the Declaration of Independence was the only true answer.

"But," he asked, "are all men born equal? Step into a maternity ward and look about you. Here is a baby born into more wealth than he will be able to spend in a lifetime. Here is another whose parents don't know where the price of the next bottle of milk is coming from. Here is one who will be a lawyer or professor and one who will never get past the sixth grade."

"There is one and only one sense in which all men are born equal and that is in their ability to serve God."

The speaker said that in 1917 we were told we were fighting for de-

Mr. Holynsky who is known as the "Ukrainian Caruso" is on a concert tour of the United States and Canada. He is a personal friend of Professor Orlyk and the Rev. Michael Lysiak, pastor of SS. The Boyan Choir, a well trained group of singers, has two sectors, one for the men and the other for the women of the parish. Professor Constantine Orlyk for many years director of the choir, is in charge again this year and promises the general public an evening of rare musical enjoyment. He is proud of the fact that recognition has been accorded his famed Boyan Choir not only on the stage but that the group has presented many successful programs over the radio.
