With St. Andrew Seminarians

By JOSEPH W. DAILEY

Blackout

The St. William House was a busy place on the evening of the second blackout. The house has been made the Air Raid Post for the town of Gates with Rev. John W. Maney, Senior Warden of the town. With town Wardens reporting, Boy Scouts running messages from the post through the town; and auxiliary firemen in readiness, the Seminarians realized something of the seriousness of a country at war.

First Aid Classes

First Aid Classes are held at the House every week with Mr. Quercio Semeraro, a Seminarian from the Syracuse Diocese in charge. All the Seminarians are taking the twenty hour course and the Wardens of the Town of Gates are also in attendance.

Fest of the Seven Dolors

Bishop Kearney said Mass last Friday at the Seminary and spoke to the boys on the importance of their coming retreat. Bishop Kearney stressed the point that he was breaking the custom of giving this yearly retreat only that the Seminarians may have a change.

Retreat

The Reverend Daniel O'Keefe of the New York Apostolate opened the retreat on Monday morning of Holy Week. All exercises are held in the St. John Fisher Chapel at the Seminary. The Seminarians are very grateful to Bishop Kearney for arranging for Father O'Keefe and his conferences are not only interesting but very inspirational.

Holy Week Services

The Seminarians are taking part this week in the solemn services at Saint Patrick's and the Cathedral.

You Bet I Advertise . . .

It's just common sense, as far as I can see . . . It's Results that count! And not only the results that follow immediately after the insertion of an ad . . . long term results are far more important! Advertising in the CATHOLIC COURIER insures the future of my business and keeps my name in front of prospective customers.
