PRELATE HITS CHARGE JALISCO CLERGY MIXING IN POLITICS

MEXICO CITY (NC)—The firm and sincere attitude of the Church in Mexico is to refrain from politics, national or international, the Most Rev. Jose Garibi Rivera, Archbishop of Guadalajara, says in his reply to accusations made by Governor Silvano Barba Gonzalez that the clergy in Jalisco are engaging in political activities. Guadalajara is the Capital of Jalisco. The Archbishop's statement reads:

"I too believe, as Archbishop Martinez said a few days ago, that the firm and sincere attitude of the Church in Mexico is to refrain from all politics, national or international, and to consecrate herself to the fulfillment of her spiritual mission. I have always tried to adjust myself to this rule and have exhorted those under my jurisdiction so to adjust themselves. I have nothing to do with political associations such as National Action, nor civic ones such as Binarchism, but I may not prohibit Catholics from joining these so long as they keep within the principles of Christian morals, principally because, as citizens, they should exercise their civil rights. But this does not mean that I, therefore, should refrain from contact with these Catholics because it should be clearly understood that no one is authorized to conclude that they are under my jurisdiction in the exercise of these activities.

"Last October, in the Mosler building of this city, there was a national meeting or assembly of the Catholic Association of Mexican Youth at which there was no representation of National Action, Binarchism, or any other association than the said A. C. J. M. If any or some of those who spoke there belong to a particular association of a political character, they were certainly not speaking at that meeting as a representative of it."

The latter part of Archbishop Garibi Rivera's statement refers to Governor Barba Gonzalez' press statement that the Archbishop, "adorned with his official ornaments and accompanied by a Bishop from Nicaragua," had "listened to and applauded" National Action speakers at the A. C. J. M. assembly.

ON NEW

Electric and Gas Lines

Ships, planes, tanks and guns are more important to-day than new houses. Every bit of metal, rubber and other materials that go into home building is vitally needed to win the war. A mile of electric lines would make 60,000 bullets. A mile of gas main would make thousands of rifle barrels.

That's why we can't extend our lines to new residential areas. That's why we are allowed to extend new services to defense projects only. We know that you'll be glad as we are to co-operate with our government in accepting these restrictions cheerfully.

After we've polished off Hitler, Hirohito and Mussolini we can resume extension of lines but right now the sole concern of all of us is winning the war.

WE'LL HELP ALL WE CAN

If there is a question of extension of lines to homes that were already under construction when the order prohibiting further residential construction was issued by the War Production Board please contact our Service Department and we'll be glad to find out whether service can be extended to your place.
