NEW ORLEANS.—A course in quarantine analytical chemistry and technical analysis will be offered at Loyola University of the South as a part of the engineering science and management defense training program of the U. S. Office of Education.

THE SIGN OF THE CROSS

A Catholic makes the Sign of the Cross by placing his right hand to his forehead, then to his breast, and then to his left and right shoulder, repeating as he does so, "In the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost," ever reminding him that Christ died on the Cross to save him and of the Blessed Trinity, three in one, Father, Son and Holy Ghost.

Norway Churches Down Quisling Campaign

LONDON.—Information received here is to the effect that Norwegian free churches are supporting the stand of the Lutheran State Church by holding meetings to condemn the Nazi-Quisling anti-religious campaign.

ST. PATRICK'S, Owego

GRUMMONS-STELLA

By MARY BROSAAN
OWEGO — The wedding of Miss Mary Stella, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Stella, of George St., this village and Lester Grummons, son of Mrs. Leo Chamberlain, of Newark Valley, was solemnized in St. Patrick's Church on Saturday morning, April 11.

Mass, music for which was furnished by Miss Mary Ozleminia, church organist. Miss Monica Doyle sang during the Mass.

School Opens

St. Patrick's Parochial School reopened on Monday morning following the Easter vacation. The morning sessions begin at 9 o'clock instead of 9:30 o'clock as before the recess. This is to comply with the bus schedules which bring the pupils in from the rural districts.

The High School Study Class will meet on Thursday evenings instead of Monday evenings.

Mrs. Winans Rites

The burial of Mrs. James Winans, of Binghamton, a former well-known resident of this village, was made in St. Joseph's Cemetery here on Wednesday of last week. The Rev. Alexander Stec, assistant pastor officiated at the grave. Mrs. Winans, who died in Binghamton, April 5, is survived only by one sister, Mrs. Nora Gillen, of Binghamton.

THE BIBLE Is It the Word of God? Is It Unerring? Is It the Sole Rule of Faith?

To our non-Catholic friends who read the Bible, meditate on its sublime mysteries and base their Faith on its sacred messages, we wish to explain the Catholic's relation to his Bible today and through the ages past by means of the few questions and answers given below.

Is the Bible the word of God? Yes. The Catholic Church teaches that the Holy Ghost inspired the sacred writers—made them his instruments, so that they could rightly conceive only those things which He, Himself, bade them conceive.

Is the Bible unerring? The Bible as originally written is God's word. Therefore it cannot contain error. But copyists, translators and printers were not inspired, so errors can and did creep in. Also in some versions deliberate omissions and alterations were made which logically made such versions incomplete and unreliable. The Catholic Church safeguards her members by approving the versions of the Bible which she wishes them to use. The Biblical Commission is ever vigilant in seeking even the slightest errors, either typographical or due to faulty translations and from time to time reports of such findings are published.

Is the Bible the sole rule of Faith? No! How could it be? The New Testament was not completed until at least sixty years after the Resurrection. The Bible, as we know it today, was not compiled until the Fourth Century, when from the mass of early writings, then extant, the Church infallibly chose those which were divinely inspired, and thus gave to posterity the sacred writings we now call the Bible. Therefore, before there was a Bible at all, the pagan world was largely converted to Christianity. In fact it was not until the invention of the printing press in the Fifteenth Century that the Bible had any appreciable circulation among the people.

Bear in mind also, that if the Bible contained all truths, it could not omit the all-important truth—i. e., that it contains all truth. Nowhere in the Bible can we find such a statement. On the contrary St. John plainly denies this in the very last words of his Gospel when he says: "And there are also many other things which Jesus did, the which, if they should be written every one, I suppose that even the world itself could not contain the books that should be written."

Therefore to the Catholic of today, as to the Catholic of the Fourth Century, the Bible in its original completeness and purity is but a divinely inspired confirmation of many important parts of the total Deposit of Faith given by Christ to His Church to guard and infallibly interpret.

There is much more to tell about the Bible. If you care for further information, it will be supplied on request—Catholic Information Society of Narberth, P. O. Box 35, Narberth, Pa.

Temptations, however strong or persistent, are not acts of the will, and if not allowed to pass on to such, cannot be sins.
