"Blessed is He Whom Thou Has Chosen"

May 13th marks the 25th anniversary of the elevation of His Holiness, Pope Pius XII, to the episcopacy. This is a jubilee celebration of a Sovereign Pontiff whom many of us have seen and heard, since as Cardinal Pacelli, he was the guest at our nation's capitol, travelled our airways, visited our cities, our churches, and our institutions of learning. He is someone we, as individuals, know and love, in addition to being Christ's Vicar on earth.

For those who are concerned in the mission work of the Church there is another reason for our interest in May 13th's celebration. During the momentous broadcast of October 19, 1940, his voice, as he himself stated, was "wafted from the Vatican Hill across the Atlantic in answer to your desire to hear a word that might stimulate the ardor of your missionary zeal".

His Holiness has expressed the wish that the faithful unite in preparing a spiritual remembrance to commemorate this silver jubilee. Why not make May 13th Mission Day by offering your prayers and good works for the successful continuation and expansion of the mission apostolate so dear to the heart of Christ's Vicar, Pope Pius XII?

A Mother's Day Suggestion

Nationwide reminders that this Sunday, May 10, is the day set aside for special honor to Mothers recall the first, unheralded "Mother's Day" that dark afternoon at Golgotha when Our Lord made His Mother ours with the words, "Son, behold thy Mother; Mother, behold thy son." Christ's bequest left the world a "friend at Court," a devoted Mediatrix who will intercede for men as long as they need her help. Because nothing pleases Him more than to grant her requests, prayers addressed to Our Blessed Mother never go unanswered.

As Our Lady, Queen of the Missions, the Mother of God has unflinchingly granted aid and inspiration to our missionaries all over the world. Pray to her for the missions, and, as a remembrance this Sunday which will be genuinely appreciated, enroll your Mother in The Society for the Propagation of the Faith.

Concern for Family

Realizing that the United States must win the war before it can begin to shape the peace, officials of the Government are nonetheless concerned about the pattern of American life in the days after the war. For example, even in discussing the possible induction of draft registrants who have dependents, instructions to local draft boards state: "The necessity of giving adequate consideration to the family unit where a child or children are involved cannot be over-emphasized and in such instance due consideration should be given to the family status, the maintenance of the home, and the desirability of continued paternal guidance and control. In the case of a registrant claiming dependents other than a wife, child, or children, the test to be applied is whether the alleged dependent comes within the definition of a dependent person and is financially dependent upon the registrant for support. The local board shall not, in classifying a registrant, consider the question of whether some other person, not morally or legally obligated to do so, could or would support the dependents of the registrant in the event of his induction."
