"Boys don't be afraid to stand up and pray," was the message, stirringly given, by James E. Cuff, prominent Cetholic leader and attorney to the 272 fathers and sons gathered at the Holy Name Society appearond disper of Our Lady of Perpetual Help parish.

Held at Rochester Turn Hall, er brokram ware anced with membership in the Holy Name Society, religious practice, patriotism, and sperts, especially baseball, stressed.

Principal speaker, Mr. Caff after paying his tribute to the Rochester Red Wing representatives presest, and urging support of the team whether it wins or loses so long as it keeps trying, turned to football terminology in his masstage to the boys.

No runner, he said, carries the ball without two good blocking backs. "Your blocking backs and interference, against the opponent interference, against the opponent you know exists, are Confession and Communion." That it was manly to pray is a matter of his-tory, he said, and cited men like Louis Pasteur and Roentgon, the X-ray inventor, as examples.

To the tune of "Let's Remember Pearl Harbor," the beys and their dads sang a tribute to the Rev. Francis J. Hoefen, pastor of Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church. Father Hoefen welcomed the guests and expressed his gratitude to the Holy Name Society for their loyalty. He also commended the Rochester hell team whom he called "neighbors" and effered his sincere wishes for their success. Greetings of the Rochester Dioc-cean Holy Name Union were brought by Frank E. Walfe, diocesan union president, who announced the forthcoming Holy Nama Society membership campaign and lauded the branch at Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church as an important unit in the diocesan organization.
