Owego Boy Wins Diocesan Spelling Contest Honors

Captures First Prize In Catholic Courier Sponsored Matches

St. Patrick's School, Owego, won diocesan honors when its contestant, Thomas O'Connor, refused to be spelled down last Saturday and won the first prize after a two and a half hours' ordeal.

Young Thomas O'Connor with 22 other contestants from as many Catholic schools of various parts of the diocese, vied in the diocesan finals at De Sales High School, Geneva, before an audience of friends and teachers.

Doris Kohls of St. Boniface School, Rochester, was runner up and won the second prize. Eleanor Chapuis of Holy Cross School, Rochester, came in third.

The spelling demons like "slave" and "receive" held no terrors for these spelling champions but the "Philippines" and "Portugal" took their toll.

This spelling contest sponsored by the CATHOLIC COURIER under the auspices of the Diocesan Superintendent of Schools proved a very worthwhile innovation according to Father Duffy. Through it a new interest in spelling was stimulated. The experience of the children who, successful in regional contests, made the finals in Geneva, was an important and enjoyable one. Following the contest, the contestants were entertained at lunch at the Seneca Hotel in Geneva.

HOLY FAMILY HIGH-LIGHTS

By Mary Ellen Fitzgerald

Conference Hour:

Conference Hour for the students of Holy Family High School was held in the Church on Tuesday afternoon, May 12.

The last, in a series of lectures given during the year each month by Reverend John Guy, was a very practical instruction on the evils of Alcoholism.

Senior Play and Pageant a Huge Success:

On Monday evening, May 11, the auditorium of Holy Family was jammed to the doors by an enthusiastic audience, who had come to witness the annual Senior Play and, this year, an unusual and very beautiful pageant, "Free Man"—a Democratic Drama of the different eras in history.

The Senior Play was a hilarious comedy, "The Pampered Darling." The audience laughed uproariously at the antics of Victor, the spoiled brother of the family, a part taken by Raymond Wall who was in character every minute of the play.

Immediately following the play, the audience witnessed the finest entertainment ever presented by the High School Students. The pageant opened by a procession from the back of students representing the different occupations in which the common people of today are now engaged.

The spectators sat enthralled, sometimes laughing and other times in tears, as the students in beautiful and colorful costumes appeared on the stage. They saw pioneers pilgrims, minute men; others portraying the Civil War Period, World War I, marines and sailors; others in the costumes worn in the Stephen Foster period. They heard over a hundred voices singing old favorites, and listened to the Choric Speakers announcing in verse the different scenes as they appeared on the stage.

Uncle Sam made his appearance for the grand finale and the audience joined in singing "The Star Spangled Banner."

The play was under the direction of Mrs. Thomas Ditton. Sister Mary Joanne was responsible for the pageant. Music was furnished by the High School orchestra.

AT AQUINAS INSTITUTE

By Dick Jeffery

SCHOOL-WIDE SPELLING BEE PLANNED

Fathers Regan and Murphy have made arrangements for a school-wide spelling bee, to be held at a general assembly later this month. G. and C. Merriam Co., sponsors of the battle of words and publishers of WEBSTER'S DICTIONARY, have donated three prizes for the three top-ranking spellers at Aquinas: one gold, one silver and one bronze medal.

Monday the nine students representing the freshman class were examined as to their spelling ability, and Roger Lafferty of 105 and Salvatore Romeo of 208 emerged victoriously. They will compete with the two winners from each of the sophomore, junior and senior classes. Eliminations in each of the classes are now being conducted by Father Haffey.

ENGLISH SCHOLARS HEAR "MACBETH"

"Those seniors whom Father Regan teaches are being given an extra treat this week. By special arrangement, Father has been able to procure records of Shakespeare's immortal "Macbeth," with Maurice Evans in the title role, and Judith Anderson as Lady Macbeth.

Father hopes that this unique plan will enable the English scholars to better understand the beauty of Shakespearian drama.

SCHOOL REOPENS

San Jose, Costa Rica.—The Archdiocesan Catechistical School has begun its 1942 season with an enrollment of 120 students. This is the second course at the normal center established to provide the necessary teachers for public schools where religious instruction is now required by law.

My Mother (departed)

I never know — she'll never tell
How much I grew beneath her spell;
But this I know: "There is no other
Can take the place of my dear mother."

—Helen Costello

Mother

High above in Heaven
Reigns a Lady bright and pure.
She reminds me of my mother,
In her ways so kind and sure.

—Gerald Lawler

A Prayer for Mother

As I recall the days of old,
And think of praises all untold;
I pray that God will ever share
His blessings for thy loving care.

—David Rice

My Mother (departed)

You've left this world, my darling
You're in a better place.
Do wait for me, my mother,
Just now, I've work to face.

I'm taking care of Dad, dear heart,
And things are not too bad,
He's a swell guy, dear mother,
Though at times, he's very sad.

In nineteen thirty, you left us
Deep in the depths of gloom,
But we hope to see you again, dear one—
It may be very soon.

—John Tyler

WORDS FUTILE

Words can not magnify Mary, whose thoughts can hardly reach. Panegyric is almost presumption, as if what lies so close to God could be honored by our approval. —Faber.
