70 Priests Volunteer As Air Raid Chaplains

Volunteering as chaplains for service in blackouts and air raids, in cooperation with the Rochester office of Civilian Protection, Tuesday, were 70 priests of this diocese serving in the Rochester deanery.

His Excellency, Bishop Kearney, opened the meeting held in Columbus Civic Centre ballroom for the clergymen, first of the chaplain units to be formed in Rochester.

Two other groups, one sponsored by the Federation of Churches and the other under the direction of Rabbi Philip S. Bernstein, will be organized later. William A. Lang, deputy director of civilian protection, announced.

The new chaplains will mobilize in the same ways as all other civilian defense personnel. They have been assigned to casualty stations, rest centers and local hospitals. The Rev. John S. Randall, representative of the diocese on the Rochester War Council is in charge.

Insignias similar to the chaplains' insignia used by the U. S. Army will be distributed to the new chaplains, Lang stated. The Christian chaplains' insignia will be a Latin cross, in red, imposed on the basic circle and triangle design associated with all civilian defense insignia. Instead of the Latin cross, the Jewish chaplains' insignia will have a six-pointed star, centered above the Tables of Law, in silhouette, Lang explained.

The priests voted to begin classes in first aid and bomb and gas control at the end of June, although Lang pointed out that no special training course was required of the chaplains.

Welfare Commission Gaughn explained duties of chaplains in rest centers and Dr. Arthur M. Johnson, city health officer, told of the purpose of the casualty stations and hospitals during a blackout or an air raid.

DEPLORES DESTRUCTION OF MALTA CHURCHES

LONDON. — Martyred Poland greeted suffering Malta in a message which General Sikorski sent to the Governor of the besieged island when news came that Britain's most Catholic corner had been awarded the George Cross for its heroic fortitude.

General Sikorski wrote: "The ruins of Valetta and Malta churches, just as the ruins of Poland, bear testimony to the love of freedom felt equally by Maltese and Poles. Our Christian Faith will be victorious over the pagan force. I congratulate you on the superb stand of all forces defending this important outpost of the Christian World."
