Blood Bank At Nuns' Hospital Aids Injured In Sub Sinkings

NEW ORLEANS.—Blood plasma from the bank of Hotel Dieu, conducted here by the Daughters of Charity of St. Vincent de Paul, was used in treatment of seamen injured in the torpedoing of ships in the Gulf of Mexico. They were brought to the Marine Hospital here.

The plasma bank of Hotel Dieu is the only one in the city strictly for war purposes. It began operating only a month ago, but had built up to about 142 units, or quarts, when the first of the Gulf submarine attacks occurred.
