ST. MARY'S, Auburn

SODALITY RECEPTION

AUBURN — The Solemn Ceremony of reception into the Sodality of Mary was held on Sunday evening at St. Mary's Church.

Rev. Dr. William E. Cowen, assisted by Rev. Dennis Hickey, received the promise of fidelity to Mary from the following girls of the Parish: Helen Austin, Dolores Cappiello, Rita Cappiello, Jean Cronin, Lillian DiMora, Margaret DiMora, Catherine Donovan, Patricia Englehart, Mary Farrell, June Finucane, Catherine Foster, Ann Kushanay, Janet Logue, Joan O'Brien, Winifred Quill, Antoinette Ravina, Therese Bodner, Patricia Collegian, Catherine Driscoll, Mary Agnes Glynn, Eva Kushanay, Patricia O'Brien, Lois DiCenso and Mary Murphy.

The statue of the Immaculate Virgin was crowned by Miss Katherine DiMora, May Queen, who had six little flower girls as attendants and two train bearers. Our Lady's Crown of pink sweetpeas rested on a blue satin pillow. The sermon was delivered by Rev. John Naoca of St. Francis Church who spoke on "The Value of a Soul."

He said: "Christ died for you and me but he would have died for just one soul. If all the priests and bishops in the world expended all their time and efforts toward the saving of one soul their work would not be in vain. Christ was born in a stable and was crucified on a cross for us. We could give away all our possessions and set about regaining them and in all probability we would, but if a soul is lost it is lost forever. Try to be faithful throughout your life to the Sodality. Try to attend the meetings regularly and receive Holy Communion each month. Always remember that oft expressed quotation 'What doth it profit a man, if he gain the whole world and suffer the loss of his immortal soul.'

Following the sermon Solemn Benediction was said with Rev. Dr. Cowen as celebrant, Rev. Joseph McNamara, deacon, and Rev. Edwin, O.M.C., as subdeacon. Following the church services a social was held in Lyceum Hall for the new members.

The Sodalities of Mary of St. Mary's Church have completed all arrangements for their Annual Communion Breakfast which will be held on Sunday morning at Springside Inn immediately after receiving Corporate Communion at the 8:30 Mass.

Miss Regina Kennedy of Rochester will be the guest speaker for the occasion and brief remarks will be made by Rev. Dr. William E. Cowen, pastor, and Rev. Dennis Hickey, moderator of both the Junior and Senior Sodalities. The entertainment is in charge of Miss Miriam Hickey and Holy Cards with a prayer for all boys in the service will be given to the guests as souvenirs of this annual Communion Breakfast. Miss Gertrude Cora and Miss Louise Ciampi are co-chairmen. Miss Sarah Hynes is in charge of reservations and the Ticket Committee is composed of Anne Feoley, Margaret Conroy, Elizabeth Brennan, Louise Ciampi, Helen Dietrichman, Marjorie Hickey, Kathleen Kelly and Miriam Hickey.

The Junior Sodality will hold their final meeting of the year on Monday evening in Lyceum Hall at which time officers for the year 1942-43 will be elected. This is an important meeting and every member is asked to attend for elections will also determine the delegates who will represent St. Mary's at the Summer School of Catholic Action which will be held in New York during August.

V. made up the committee in charge of arrangements. The Rice Post Bugle and Drum Corps attended in full regalia and taps were sounded.

Father McNamara said in part: "Today, our beloved nation pauses to remember its soldier dead, and to decorate the graves of those who fought for their fatherland. How fitting it is that we gather here amidst their remains to offer to their God and ours the perfect Sacrifice of the Mass, which is but the renewal of Every day for us is Memorial Day, when at the Sacrifice of the Mass we are constrained to remember Christ and His living presence under the appearances of bread and wine—to remember, further, the living and the dead for whom Jesus died on Calvary.

"Memorial Day this year recalls to mind not only the brave men of years gone by, but also our own boys who today battle for their beloved country and for us. Our nation is at war; and we will fight to defend it because we believe it is worth fighting for. We love our dear country, not only its physical beauty and the tender attachments of a lifetime, but more especially the principles of Christ upon which our government was founded: the principles of liberty and justice for all. Our forefathers fought for these ideals and the young men of our own day are as willing to die that posterity may live, and be enabled to realize the sublime dignity of the individual human personality."

"It is for us at home to keep alive and to nourish those principles of Christian charity and justice and liberty; to preserve intact that freedom of religion, of speech and of the press which are guaranteed in the Bill of Rights. What a catastrophe it would be if we should blind our eyes to the internal cancer of Communism, and lose those very things for which our men are fighting.

"We are patriotic in peace and in war, because patriotism is a virtue—a virtue by which we render to our fatherland the devotion which is its due. Patriotism is an integral part of the virtue of piety by which we offer love, reverence, and obedience to our father and mother."

"Especially, in the time of war and national crisis people are prone to invert the Ten Commandments, and to bring the fourth to the head of the list—to prefer patriotism to religion. But let us preserve the order established by God Himself. Let us render first to God the worship due Him, then our duty to family and to our homeland. If we consider the matter we shall find that there can be no true patriotism without the practice of true religion—the religion by which we give to God that honor, love and worship which He has established and which He demands. Pontius Pilate said to Christ: Knowest thou not that I have power to crucify Thee, and I have power to release Thee? and Jesus answered Thou shouldest not have any power against me, unless it were given thee from above." The same can be said to every superior and to every civil leader for St. Paul says, "There is no power but from God." "Where man refuses to render to God the things that are God's," he ends by rendering to Caesar the things that are Caesar's; and by becoming Caesar's slave instead of the free servant of God. Where God's laws have been spurned by rulers and governments there they have enacted unjust laws and the people gradually refused obedience to them. Where mankind has forgotten God, there the force of a large standing army has been necessary to preserve the semblance of order and obedience. For it is not order, but chaos; not obedience, but slavery.

"We are devoted to our country, and that patriotism is enduringly genuine, because at its foundation rests the rock of our religion. Many here who have fought in both battles: for country and for heaven. Eternal rest grant unto them," prays the Church, "let perpetual light shine upon them"—the light of glory by which they shall see God and live a life of joy in the vision of the Eternal Truth."
