Bobby Feller Coming For K. C.-Shriner Benefit

Victory Program To Open At CYA

Health Education Department of the Columbus Youth Association has announced the inauguration of a special Victory Program during the summer months, to provide recreation and exercise for those workers confined in the city due to defense work, gasoline and tire shortages. The program will be conducted three evenings weekly from five o'clock to eight-thirty on Tuesday, Thursdays and Fridays.

Keep Fit and Weight Normalizing Classes will be held on Tuesday and Thursday evenings. A course on tennis technique will also be conducted on these evenings.

C Y A Pool is open Tuesday, Thursday and Friday evenings and swimming instruction and perfection of strokes is optional. Badminton courts and ping pong tables are available at all times.

Mrs. Marie Klenear, director of the Women's Physical Education Department, has announced that special rates will prevail throughout the summer.

Complete details regarding membership in the Columbus Youth Association may be obtained from the C. Y. A. office in the Columbus Civic Centre at Stone 1493.

Fund Campaign Enables Camp To Begin Remodeling Work

As a result of the success of the campaign for funds conducted by the campers who attend Camp Stella Maris last summer, re-modeling and decorating plans at the camp are now under way. A new "store" where candy, supplies and craft items are sold, is being built near the craft shop, behind the main building of the camp. The site of the former store and office, located off the dining room in the large administration building, is being redecorated and will serve as an office only.

New York tables and cupboards will be built in the craft shop, and a new rear porch is to be built on the administration building.

Registrations are being taken daily at the camp office, and many of the encampments are nearly filled. Early registrations are urged, to avoid disappointment later.

Miss Mary Louise McIntee, Camp Secretary, is in the office from 9 to 5:30 daily except Saturday, when the office is open until noon.

AT AQUINAS INSTITUTE

By DICK JEFFERY

CHARLES TUCKER WINS SCHOOL-WIDE SPELLING BEE

Charles J. Tucker, a senior, proved his mettle in the much-awaited Spelling Bee on Friday last. The verbal combat, sponsored by the G. and C. Merriam Co. was staged in the auditorium, and featured two representatives from each class. Father Regan conducted the battle, while Mr. Looby acted as judge.

Tucker was awarded a gold medal with his name inscribed at the marks assembly Wednesday. Other stellar spellers who merited awards are: second prize, Thomas Cozzo, silver medal; third prize, Paul Kaiser, bronze medal.

Also in the runing were Roger Lafferty, Salvatore Romeo, Salvatore Dalberth, Robert Di Veroly, and Donald Sullivan.

STANDARD BEARER, AIDE NAMED FOR '42-'43 YEAR

At a general assembly Thursday last, John T. Nothnagle was inaugurated Standard Bearer of Aquinas for next year, succeeding Donald Hoyt. Also inducted was Joseph Vorndran, the new Assistant Standard Bearer, who succeeds Harold Geimer. Each year these two awards are bestowed upon the two juniors having the highest scholastic average.

Featured on the program was the Senior Glee Club, which made its last public appearance of the year. The vaunted vocalists made their final program one of the most impressive of all, singing a score of popular songs and hymns, among which may well be mentioned "Water Boy," "The Night March," and "Open Our Eyes."

Soloists were James Grimm and Robert Foley. Mr. Ray Hasenauer, musical director, staged a surprise demonstration, in which the fractions of the various sections of the glee club were explained to the students.

The assembly was closed with the singing of the Aquinas Alma Mater by the entire student body.

Cooperate In War Week

School float will be entitled "United Nations for Victory." The Aquinas Institute band led by Ray Hasenauer will appear in its striking uniforms. Girls from Nazareth Academy, Our Lady of Mercy High School Academy of the Sacred Heart and boys from Aquinas Institute have been assigned places.

The Rev. John M. Duffy, Superintendent, Catholic Schools, Diocese of Rochester is serving on the school committee with David M. Brady and Dr. Mark Ellingson.

Having a prominent place in the parade line will be the priests who have volunteered as Chaplains in the Civil Protection setup.

A broadcast Sunday evening over Station WHAM will be directed by Father Randall and will be participated in by school children. The Inter-High Choir will sing directed by Marlowe Smith.

One of the outstanding floats in the parade will be that of the Inter-Faith Movement which will depict Catholic, Protestant and Jewish religions' cooperation in the war effort. The Rev. Joseph E. Vogt is in charge.

The day following the parade will mark the collection by the Rochester Salvage Committee headed by William T. Nolan of all old rubber items which can be salvaged for war use.

Complete details on Rochester's War Week will be given in the press and by radio in the coming days.

Holy Father Feature In June 'Mercedes'

Timely editorials and feature articles from the pens, or typewriters, of Our Lady of Mercy High School Students, together with clever fiction stores round out another high standard issue of Mercedes, semi-annual publication, out last week.

Th frontispiece is a full-page photograph of His Holiness, Pope Pius XII, captioned "A Man of God." Beneath the picture is this verse:

In far-off Rome a great man prays—
A ray of peace in peaceless days!
While war drags on in endless days,
In far-off Rome a great man prays.
Ut Deus Audiat!

In this June, 1942, edition of the Mercedes the editorials appear first directly after a full page verse by Marian Hyland, editor-in-chief, entitled "My Last Day Here."

The lead editorial, also by Miss Hyland, ties up with the frontispiece and extends to His Holiness, the wish of "the younger members of your flock," for a blessed Jubilee. Treating of "Slogans Through the Ages," the following editorial advocates "Remember Mary's Son," as the slogan of the hour. "With Him as our leader truly we would be invincible," the editorial states.

Besides five editorials, the issue contains eight articles, five features and 12 fiction stories, all well written and typographically arranged with original illustrations here and there to attract the eye.

An insert on enamel paper presents the photographs of the 105 graduates with their names, parishes and a farewell message from each graduate to her Alma Mater.

Current books are reviewed as are concerts of the current season. Bits of verse round out the editorial contents.

The entire edition will not only offer reader interest to the graduates and students of Our Lady of Mercy High School, but to any person who secures a copy.

Getting On In The World

LESSER CRIMES

Every normal person has perhaps little difficulty keeping out of prison, or jail, or court, on such charges as murder, arson, or what may be called crime-in-earnest. But every normal person is guilty of the lesser variety of human faults, lesser by contrast maybe but still serious things.

One of them is the habitual, almost unconscious and constant relaying of personal digs — even at good friends. "So-and-so was angry, mad over nothing, jealous because bzzz-bzzz-bzzz, didn't want to talk, wouldn't speak, greet, nod, listen, etc. She's 29 if she's a day that new dress is terrrrrrible — the old lady's cranky. I just don't like 'em, they make me sick, wait'll I tell 'em."

Then there's the rendezvous of tags that dribble about faster than paytime on a slot machine. "The drip, the dope, the snob, the crook, the high-hat, pennypincher, lazy lizard, good-for-nothing, screwball, front page man, old soak, bar fly, etc."

These unseemly terms sprinkle many a conversation, too many. They happen thoughtlessly, but nevertheless harmfully, little by little whittling away the good repute of the person so attacked. Girls have no monopoly on this kind of petty catterwalling. Nor have middle age ladies, or the stately dowagers. Young men are rapidly becoming as serious offenders against common decency in this respect as any one.

In no one does the habit show to advantage. It's petty, sometimes downright mean, sometimes thoughtless, yet all in all a thing to be avoided scrupulously by all good men and women.

Knights of St. John To Appear In Pageant

With Bobby Feller, United States Navy, former star American League pitcher, as the stellar attraction, plans are being completed for the mammoth Knights of Columbus-Shriners War Relief Benefit at Red Wing Stadium, Wednesday evening, June 17.

This affair will be one of the events marking War Week in Rochester and will be featured by a patriotic pageant in which Rochester's fraternal organizations in their colorful uniforms will participate.

Publisher Frank Gannett, Navy Relief director for this area, arranged for the appearance here of the former Cleveland Indians ace hurler after a conference with Grand Knight Joseph P. Flynn, chairman of the K. of C.-Shriners benefit, and Leo F. Rombaut, chairman of the pageant.

The entire proceeds of the benefit which has for its central feature the regularly scheduled baseball game between Rochester Red Wings and the Newark Bears will go to war relief. The Rochester baseball club, through President Oliver French, is cooperating in the benefit.

Taking a leading part in the pageant will be the various units of Rochester Regiment, Knights of St. John and Ladies' Auxiliary drill teams in command of Col. Frederick J. Wegman. Many bands will be included with units of the Damascus Shrine, Grotto, Moose, Eagles and other fraternal groups taken part.

Tickets are available from Paul A. Predmore at the K. of C. club rooms, Columbus Civic Centre, Main 1432.

McLAUGHLIN WINS AWARD

The Southern Division of the C. Y. O. Grammar School Softball League has completed its schedule with Corpus Christi heading the League. St. Anthony's, however, has two postponed games to play, and each team has only one loss. St. Andrew's of the Northern Division has won ten and lost none to hold undisputed possession of the lead, with two more rounds to be played.

McLaughlin, left-fielder for Corpus Christi, was awarded the "best play of the week" and a six-months' membership to the Columbus Youth Association. In the Corpus Christi-St. Monica's game, he made a spectacular catch of a long, hard hit, fly ball toward deep left-center field, to stop a scoring threat by St. Monica's. The game was won by Corpus Christi 5 to 4.
