AIR RAID WARDENS

Zone One air raid wardens held a real party in Recreation Hall on Monday evening. Mayor Brister was the guest of honor and spoke briefly commending the wardens of Zone One for their high marks in their recent Red Cross first aid tests and lauded the entire civilian protection set-up in the city, saying that it is one of the best organized and trained groups in the entire state.

Then Rev. Fr. Joseph G. Straub who has been one of Zone One's most active workers and who has passed his First Aid test, was called upon to address the men. He too, expressed his pleasure with the activities and progress of Sgt. Michael Linsagbach's Zone One air raid wardens and asked the men to remember one suggestion in regard to blackout. "Be kind and charitable," he said. "Remember that some poor old lady might not have heard the sirens and is sitting with lights burning in her house. Don't bawl her out roughly, but be kind when informing her of the situation."

Following Father Straub's talk the Eagle and Drum Corps of Rice Post, American Legion, led by Assistant Drum Major Harold Ide and Business Manager Frank Sample marched into Recreation Hall and played a number of patriotic numbers which were greatly enjoyed by the air raid wardens. Frank Sample and Bill Hetherington also performed for their interested audience and a luncheon was served by Roy Johnston, Harold McIntee, Sector Warden Walter Marx and Father Straub and Fischer also took their part in the serving. Instructor Hoyt was presented with a remembrance by the men of Zone One and he responded with a fitting speech.

Pan-American Press Congress in Mexico Adopts Honor Code

MEXICO CITY, (CNS)—The reputation of persons, whatever their religious creed or political affiliation, ought to be scrupulously respected. The press should be the most faithful defender of the dignity of the human person and the respect that it merits.

This was one of seven articles in the Code of Honor of the Press, adopted at the National and Pan-American Press Congress just held here.

The Congress also drew up an 11-article declaration of principles which include the inviolability of the freedom of the press and of the private lives of persons, and call for the reform of "all dispositions now in force which are contrary to the postulates herein announced."

Africa is said to have possessed the first Latin Bible. During the second century many translations were made there and from these emerged the version known as the Vetus Itala.

Aged Brother Has Carried College's Mail Four Times Around World in 42 Years

RENSSELAER, Ind.—Brother Victor Zuber, 82-year-old mail carrier of St. Joseph's College near here, has traveled just about four times the distance around the world in carrying mail to and from the college in the past 42 years. For 28 of those years Brother Victor made the daily trips to town by horse and wagon, but four years ago he went modern.

Brother Victor was carrying the mail by wagon when he saw the first automobile make its way into Rensselaer. He was on another of his daily trips when he saw the first airplane over Jasper county. In the intervening years he watched the daily progress of modernization from his more and more old-fashioned conveyance.

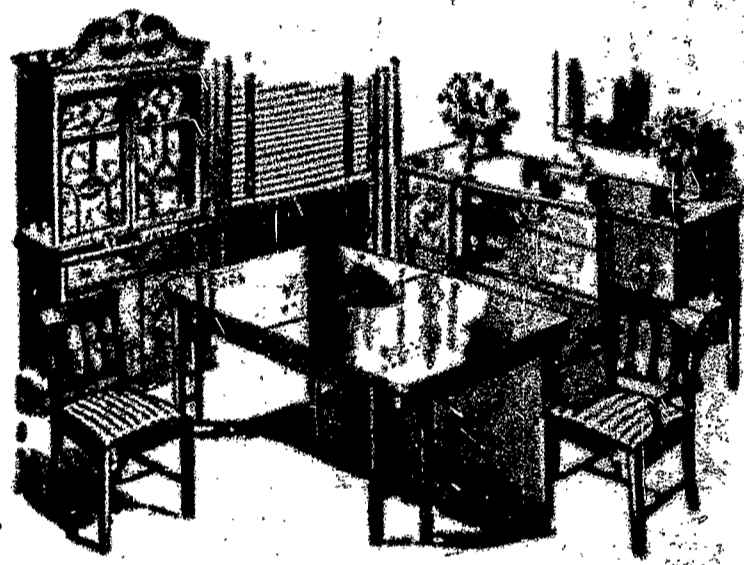

Finally four years ago last Thanksgiving he gave in to the trend and now is driven to and from the Rensselaer post office twice daily in a truck, while he continues to take full charge of the mail sacks.

Peace and quiet are to be found in the entire resignation to the will of God.
