Camp Madonna For Girls To Open Sunday, June 28

Final preparations are under way for the opening of Camp Madonna, Catholic Women's Club camp on Canandaigua Lake, for girls from eight to eighteen years, on Sunday after-noon of June 28.

Extensive renovations of the camp buildings have been made since the close of camp last season. The results of these efforts will soon be ready for the comfort and pleasure of all who use the camp. These improvements, along with the kind of weather that has transformed the camp grounds, have contributed to make the setting for this summer plans more beautiful than ever before.

Miss Kathryn Gaffney, camp director, will be assisted by the following competent staff: Miss Rita Scott of Nazareth College faculty, head counselor; Miss Frances Wilber of St. Mary's Hospital nurse-counselor; Miss Beverly Jones and Miss Jean Schanz, Nazareth College students; Miss Janet Warner, graduate of Genesee Normal School, and Miss Doris Griffin also of Genesee; Miss Patricia Wilson, Girl Scout leader and a post-graduate student at Charlotte High School, and Miss Ann Maloney, for several years on the Camp Madon-

Kearney at the Elmira, Catholic High School commencement, Sunday at 3:00 P. M. The Rev. William A. Burns, principal, will present the class.

Commencement exercises at De Sales High School, Geneva, will be held in St. Francis de Sales Church with the Bishop presiding Sunday at 11:00 A. M. The class numbers 81.

Diplomas will be awarded to 47 boys and girls, graduates of Holy Family High School, Auburn, in the school auditorium, Tuesday night. The Rev. William Davis, principal, will present the Class to His Excellency, Bishop Kearney. Kathryn Cutler will give the Valedictory and Mary Wilson, second highest in average, will speak on the Pope's Silver Jubilee. J. Cullen will be Salutatorian.

The graduation exercises of Our Lady of Mercy High School were advanced one day because of the War Week Parade on Friday.

na staff, Miss Helen Williams is returning for her fourth year as dietician. Rev. Dr. Charles J. Mahoney, we are most happy to say, is again our camp chaplain.

Trained Counselors
At a meeting of the staff held on Saturday, June 6, program plans were outlined and specific duties were assigned to each counselor. Training of counselors for the summer will be continued at camp on the week preceding the opening. "In a year when unusual opportunities and high wages are attracting so many who would be excellent counselor material, we count ourselves most fortunate to have such a fine group of girls so well qualified willing to do camp work," Camp officials announce.

"Reservations which far exceed those of the same date in former years reflect an interesting situation also. Parents who formerly traveled or enjoyed a cottage at the lake for a longer or shorter time during the summer, find that sustained transportation cuts them off from their usual vacations. They are therefore eager to place their children where they can enjoy a change and be well taken care of at the same time. Another cause contributing to the increase in registration is no doubt the fact that because of increased employment, many families who formerly were interested now find themselves able to send their daughters to camp.

"In surveying the camp situation we find also that most parents feel that camp is a normal activity that is a release from the trying situations that are the problem of the adult world today.

Recommend Camping
Bishop Kearney in speaking of the summer camp, was heard to say "one lesson learned from England is that nothing should interfere with the proper supervision and recreation of our young people."

"Surely the health of our boys and girls is one of our most important lines of defense. One camp authority has said the well run summer camp has been noted for building the health of the campers. It has done more than that, however. Strong muscles, new skills, cooperation with the consideration of other people, self reliance are products of camp life too. All these are elements of the disciplined life that all of us are having to learn and the younger we learn them, the better."

"What a familiar ring this last sentence has. For after all, no matter whether this educational idea or that seem to flourish for a while and then lose its important place for something different, the word 'discipline' in all its best sense implies it and always has been a familiar one to the Catholic children in the home, school and church.

"Camping is an antidote for everything artificial. It is an opportunity for the enjoyment of the freedom that is to be found in the open spaces and where a life more in harmony with God's design can be lived.

"There are still places at camp, though some weeks are already filled and with waiting lists. Do not delay if you have a child who wishes to come to camp call the office of the Catholic Women's Club, Stone 4950, and arrange to have her registered. Folders will be mailed you upon request and interviews with parents are always welcome."

The following members of the Catholic Women's Club make up the camp committee which assumes the work and responsibility of the supervision of Camp Madonna: Mrs. Edward L. Zimmer, ex-officio; Mrs. Frank J. G. Connor, Mrs. Harry B. Crowley, Mrs. George W. Guerinot, Mrs. Robert C. Hartman, Miss Lucy R. Sheridan, Mrs. Leo F. Simpson and Mrs. Louis A. Whalen. Miss Alice F. Kiek is chairman of this committee.

The season will be from Sunday, June 28, to Sunday, Aug. 18.

KEY TO STRENGTH
Here is the key to the strength of the Catholic Church. She is strong because she is united; so compacted together that there is no smallest unit but is in complete accord with the whole. Cardinal O'Connell.

Enjoy Variety Program At Holy Angels School

Girls of Holy Angels School presented their biennial entertainment on Wednesday evening, June 3. According to custom, the girls put on a sort of revue, for the enjoyment of their relatives and friends and for the friends of the Institution. All of the girls in the School had some part in the skills, plays and dances that made up the program.

The program consisted of a comedy-drama in which the older girls took the parts; several shorter skits of a humorous character; numbers by the Rhythm Band; a revue of the "Gay Nineties" type; several tap dances and choruses by the whole student body. The audience enjoyed the whole program immensely and the girls received many compliments on their performance.

Holy Angels is conducted by the Sisters of the Congregation of Our Lady of Charity of Refuge, commonly known as the Good Shepherd Sisters, and is located on Winton Road North. It is conducted along the lines of a boarding school, with all activities carried on within the Institution. The School is under the supervision of the Catholic School Board of Rochester and the School Board of Webster and is empowered to give Regents certificates from New York State. It is, however, primarily a home where certain types of adolescent girls can get the security of home life, while preparing to take their place in the community later. At the same time, the religious atmosphere makes it possible to inculcate those ideals of Christian living which will make for wholesome living later in life.
