Prayerbook He Read On Raft After Torpedoing At Sea Soldier's Prized Possession

CINCINNATI. — A prayerbook, soaked with the salt spray of the Atlantic Ocean, is the most prized possession of Corporal Richard Glassmeyer, Cincinnati youth who was rescued from a raft 75 miles off the New England coast after the ship on which he was returning from Ireland was torpedoed by an Axis submarine.

Corporal Glassmeyer, visiting his home here, told how he read the prayerbook over and over as the waves buffeted the life raft on which he and another soldier, Richard Boex, clung. He told also how he had noticed a Bible in the overcoat pocket of his companion and discovered that he, too, was a Catholic. Corporal Glassmeyer's prayerbook had been a gift from a Catholic chaplain at an army camp in Texas.

Together, he said, the two recited the prayers "for all we were worth" until a navy patrol boat picked them up after 18 hours on the raft.

Corporal Glassmeyer has gone to an officers' school. He attended St. Francis de Sales' School and Purcell High School here before entering the service.

The positive qualities of agreeableness, are fact, cheerfulness, generosity, kindness, friendliness, gratitude and tolerance.

Vacation Hints

With rationing of gas, shortage of tires, reduction of railroad travel, it looks as if many people will spend their vacations at home this summer. Nevertheless, here are a few simple rules to remember if you start on your vacation, or a weekend, or an outing.

1. If driving, keep under 40 miles an hour. It saves gas and rubber. These are vital war materials.
2. Complete all details early and obtain plenty of rest the night before leaving.
3. Swim and dive only in safe waters and always with someone else. Wait at least two hours after eating before going into the water.
4. Take your sun baths gradually, until your skin gets used to the sun. Remember, the safe tolerance to exposure to the sun is not the same for all individuals.
5. Exercise moderately, dress lightly, and eat wisely.
6. Boil water, if it is not known to be absolutely pure, before drinking it.
7. Learn to recognize poison ivy, poison sumac; avoid them. After exposure to either wash thoroughly with strong soap and water.

Be wise, be wary and enjoy your vacation this year, even if you do spend it at home. — Rochester Hospital Service News.
