

If You Read Poetry---

You cannot afford to miss---

NOT EVEN DEATH by Theodore Maynard

Master of prose and poetry alike, Theodore Maynard, historian, critic, lyricist, is one of the shining lights of the Catholic literary world today. In this volume he makes a selection from his verse of recent date that will enhance his already enviable reputation.

72 pages, $1.25

A TALKING OF THE LOVE OF GOD

arranged by

Mother Mary Dominica Taylor, S.H.C.J.

A tender religious poem of the thirteenth century, put into modern English for the edification of the devout and the enjoyment of the learned. It speaks of the Saviour and His Blessed Mother in terms of loving intimacy, reflecting the attachment to the humanity of Christ which was the outstanding characteristic of medieval piety.

120 pages, $1.00

Postage is extra.

Kindly direct orders to Department 4-408.

St. Anthony's Guild

Paterson, New Jersey

Catholic Near East Welfare Association

The Whole Family

All your family benefits from a Family Membership in our Association. Each member, living or deceased, shares in 15,000 Masses a year. You can enroll your whole family for Five Dollars.

MISSION INTENTION FOR AUGUST

The Holy Father has asked the prayers of the faithful during August "For Native Clergy of the Oriental Rites in the Near East."

Never before has there been such urgent need for fostering vocations in the Near East. The war is taking the toll of the priests now in service in those countries. Successors must be raised up speedily if the work is not to suffer—not only among the eight million Catholics of the Oriental Rites, but among the 100,000,000 who are still separated from the One Fold.

In no country is the Church completely at home until it is staffed, in large part, by priests who are natives. They are of the people, they speak the same language, think the same thoughts, understand the people's minds and temperaments. Missionaries from afar are very valuable. They begin the work—clear the path. But they know that in time they must be succeeded by natives.

Recently His Holiness established the "Pontifical Work for Priestly Vocations" to spread knowledge of the need and to unite the faithful of the whole world in communion of prayers and pious practices. We urge all our readers to join in this crusade of prayer, especially during the month of August.

Vocations are not lacking in the Near East. But there is lack of means to feed, clothe and house the young men who desire to study for the priesthood. One Hundred Dollars will care for a student for a year. Please sponsor one. Or join our Student Support Club and send One Dollar a month.

TAKE IT WITH YOU

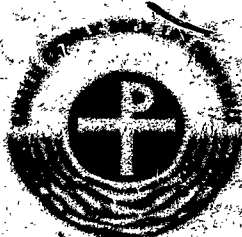

It is an old adage: You can take with you only that which you have given away. Remember the Catholic Near East Welfare Association in your will.

ALTARS NEEDED

Mass can be said on a makeshift altar, but it is not very fitting. Some of our chapels are using boxes and boards for altars. For Fifty Dollars a suitable altar can be given to one of them.

Send all communications to

Catholic Near East Welfare Association
490 Lexington Ave. at 46th St. New York, N. Y.

3801 Grand Ave.
Des Moines, Iowa

The Biggest Grafter

A Bishop who has been a priest for fifty years, the venerable and most beloved John B. Morris of Little Rock, Arkansas, is by his own admission "the biggest grafter." He prides himself on having grafted twenty-three different kinds of apples on one tree.

He was born June 20, 1866, near Hendersonville, Tennessee. Farm bred, farm reared and a farmer to date, even if an episcopal one, for forty years he has been an active member of the Burbank Society.

"My father was a good farmer," said the Bishop when the Executive Secretary of the National Catholic Rural Life Conference called at the episcopal residence to bring the greetings of the Conference on the occasion of the former's Golden Jubilee.

The Bishop's farm is about four miles from North Little Rock on the Jacksonville Highway. The Benedictine Sisters reside there, and Tony Deller is the Bishop's right-hand man. While standing in the shade of one tree he will ask you: "What will you have for dessert—apples or pears?" Fresh from God's own factory and refrigerating plant both grow on the branches of the same tree.

There are English walnuts from Michigan trees, pomegranates from Arkansas City, Japanese persimmons, Star's Golden Delicious pears, Chinese chestnuts, almond trees from Spain—all in the Bishop's garden. A Chinese Ju Ju Ho Tree is the gift of Senator Caraway. Sister Caletta says: "It looks like a plum and makes delicious pie."

Bantam hens here and pheasants there, partridges, turkeys and a stately peacock—all on an eighty-acre farm, and yet room to room.

"My mother," continued the Bishop, "always had flowers on the table. She raised them herself so I, too, raise them and have them on my table. I think all families should have flowers." He takes pride in twenty-seven varieties of peonies, some of which he has developed himself.

He clinches his agrarian argument for the mobility of farming and for its economic possibilities with these words: "With my own hands, year after year, I have raised not less than thirty-eight varieties of vegetables for my table."

All hail to the country gentleman from Little Rock! Ad multos et agricolas amen!—L. G. Egwell.

Priest's Prayer in Senate Asks Just, Lasting Peace

WASHINGTON.—The Rev. John F. A. Cavanaugh-Donnelly, Diocesan Director of Catholic Social Action in the Diocese of Corpus Christi, opened the July 30 session of the United States here with a prayer. Father Cavanaugh-Donnelly's prayer was as follows:

"Let us pray:
"May God the Father, creator of all, bless us 100,000,000 Americans, and safeguard our boys and girls, particularly those in the armed forces.
"May God the Son, by His example, teach us to sacrifice for the duration of the war.
"May God the Holy Spirit guide our great President, his Cabinet, our illustrious Senators, our Representatives, our admirals, our generals, officers and enlisted men all, to victory and a just and lasting peace. Amen."

Reports Cure At St. Anne Shrine

STE. ANNE DE BEAUPRE, Que.—Octave Nadeau, 22, of Ste. Apolline, who has been suffering from inflammatory rheumatism since he was 16 and for the past three years has been compelled to use crutches, reports his cure at the internationally known shrine here. After attending Mass he left his crutches at the shrine, and returned to the Infant Jesus Hospital where he had been staying.

HOW MANY of the splendid columns by feature writers in this paper can be obtained in any of the hundreds of daily papers. Turn to the editorial page if you seek words of words.

WM. F. and S. GEO. SHAFER

WING & SHAFER

* Formerly President and Vice-President of

August Fur Sale

Favorite of Catholic Courier Readers

SHAFER began fur operations in Rochester before the Catholic Courier was established over a half century ago... and has been pleasing its readers best ever since, with Fashion, Quality and Unparalleled Low August Sale Prices.

Coat sketched, $187

Includes Tax

Fashion Fur of quality unobtainable elsewhere within many dollars of $187.

Other Fashion Fur 127.50 to 250

1943 Fur Cost

*89 to *890

Custom Furs made to order at similar savings.

SHAFER CO.
51 EAST AVENUE

GIRLS

Make Your Reservations

NOW for CAMP STELLA MARIS.

The Third and final camping period for the girls begins August 16th and will run for one week. There are still a few vacancies left, so if you plan on attending the camp you'd better hurry and make your reservation.

CAMP STELLA MARIS

On Beautiful Conesus Lake

Camp Office
50 Chestnut St.

Telephone
Stant 1492