JUSTICE, HAPPY AS A WARRIOR

It must have been a tough, hot day of maneuvers for this soldier, judging by the appearance of his uniform. But he is still smiling, and it's none other than Lieutenant Colonel Frank Murphy, Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court. He is serving with the Second Armored Division while on "vacation" from the bench. (NC-ACME photo)

Our Lady's Year

Among the feast's throughout the year, When tenderest thoughts arise of thee, Hallowed by centuries, are three; October, May, the Nativity.

'Tis in the spring, the month of May, All nature dressed in festive green, When first we greet thee as our Queen— Of May.

The lilac bud awakes from sleep, The trees abound in birds, that keep A tryst each year, when spring is here, In May.

The children gather at thy shrine, Mid flowers profuse the tapers gleam; And countless voices hail thee, Queen Of May.

October comes, the roses fade, Yet, twining heavenwards, decades Of rosaries we say.

Roses to grace Our Lady's bower, Nurtured in life's all fleeting hour, To gleam eternally.

The Natal day of Christmas brings, Thy crowning gift, our King of Kings, The prophecies fulfilled.

Angelic choirs Hosannas raise, "Peace to men of good will," and praise, Redemption's Prodigy.

Queen of the May, the Rosary! Author of Christ's Nativity, Another title claim:

As Queen of Peace, our urgent plea Is peace with justice, Victory, Thru Christianity.
