First Part of Old Testament Revision Ready Next Spring

CLEVELAND (NC)—The first section of the revised Old Testament, on which biblical scholars are now working, will probably be ready in the spring of 1943, it was revealed this week as scholars from the United States and Canada convened here for the sixth general meeting of the Catholic Biblical Association of America.

The meeting was held this year under the patronage of the Most Rev. Archbishop Joseph Schrembs, Bishop of Cleveland, and the faculty of the Seminary of Our Lady of the Lake was host to some 70 biblical experts for the two-day session.

The scholars elected the Rev. Donat Poulet, O.M.I., of the University of Ottawa, President of the Association for the coming year to succeed the Very Rev. Thomas Plasmann, O.F.M., President of St. Bonaventure College, Allegany, N. Y. Father Poulet extended the invitation of the Most Rev. Joseph Charbonneau, Archbishop of Ottawa, to hold the next annual meeting of the Association in Ottawa, and the offer was unanimously accepted.

Discussion at the closing day's sessions was devoted entirely to a review of the principles and problems of the revision of the Old Testament translation, which constitutes the present task of the Association. The work to date was reviewed by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. William L. Newton, of Cleveland.

The prediction that the first section of the work would be available next spring came from the Rev. Patrick W. Skeehan, of the Catholic University of America, Washington, D. C., Corresponding Secretary of the Board of Revisors. Encyclical Anniversary

Next year being the fiftieth anniversary of the Encyclical of Leo XIII on "The Study of the Sacred Scriptures," the delegates discussed ways and means of suitably commemorating the event. A special committee was named to make plans for the commemoration.

At the final session Father Plasmann, retiring President, made a plea for a continuance of the zeal and enthusiasm that has marked the renaissance of biblical scholarship in this country. Pointing to the intimate relation that has ever existed in the Church between the Bible and sacred learning in general, he portrayed the Bible as the unifying book for a synthesis of theological learning whereby a fuller influence of the latter on human life would be achieved.

NEW YORK.—Free French and Lebanese soldiers who fell in the fighting in Libya were remembered at a memorial Mass at St. Joseph's Maronite Church on Washington St. yesterday. The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Family Donates Outdoor Shrine At Perkinsville

This outdoor shrine to the Sacred Heart was recently erected on the grounds of Sacred Heart Church, Perkinsville, N. Y.

The open, rustic shrine, built of hand cut logs, is octagonal in shape with a cement floor and a natural bark roof. The Altar is of stone and cement and the five-foot statue of the Sacred Heart is finished in soft colors and is a product of the Daprato Statuary Company.

The shrine was built and donated by one of the life-long families of the Parish in memory of their deceased members and is a beautiful addition to the Church grounds.

It has been the suggestion of the Rev. Charles Rieker, Pastor, that a frequent prayer be said at the Shrine "especially in those troubled times for such devotion and honor will certainly be rewarded by the Sacred Heart of Jesus."

WEDDINGS

Predmore - Crimmens

In a pretty wedding in the church of the Immaculate Conception on Saturday, Sept. 5, Miss Rita Crimmens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alphonsus P. Crimmens of 34 Cady St., became the bride of Mr. Paul Raymond Predmore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Predmore, also of Cady St.

The marriage ceremony was performed by the bride's brother, the Rev. Alphonsus P. Crimmens, before an altar banked with palms, white gladioli and asters. The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her only attendant was her sister, Miss Clare Crimmens.

The brother of the groom, Mr. Robert Predmore, was best man, and the ushers were John Crimmens and James Predmore. Mr. Paul A. Predmore, father of the groom and director of the Immaculate Conception Men's Choir, rendered selections during the Mass. After the ceremony in the church, a breakfast and reception were held at the Locust Club on Spring Street.
