ENGLISH BISHOPS ATTEMPT TO SOLVE SCHOOL PROBLEM

LONDON—The Hierarchy of England and Wales has submitted to the Government two plans which would meet Catholic claims in the education question, it was disclosed by the Bishop of Leeds, the Most Rev. H. Poakitt, at a special conference of the Catholic Teachers' Association, held in Leeds.
Bishop Poakitt did not indicate the nature of the proposals submitted to the government beyond saying that they are "based on the definite line of the principles governing education which were laid down by the Bishops in 1929."
The 1929 declaration of principles affirmed that it is no part of the normal function of the State to teach, and insisted that the teacher is always acting in loco parentis and never in loco civitatis.

Sees War Involving Interracial Justice

NEW YORK—The Rev. John LaFarge, S.J., Associate Editor of American, told the Summer School of Catholic Action, in session at Fordham University here this week, that the issues of interracial justice are no longer local, but world wide, and are involved in the war and the peace to follow it.
"Interracial justice is not an ornament or utopian addition to our social order, but is a prerequisite for its stability, peace and prosperity," he said. "On the other hand, the teachings of the Christian religion concerning the common, supernatural destiny of the human family and the Mystical Body of Christ provide abundant supernatural motivation for interracial justice and charity."
The question of the Negro and other race groups in industry, he said, was closely allied to the question of migration, adding that exclusion of workers on racial grounds was "a national evil." In recommending that a permanent post-war policy be worked out, he pointed out that the answer could be found in the Papal Social Encyclicals and the "teaching of the Church on the Mystical Body."
In reference to interracial education as a type of Catholic Action, Father LaFarge said: "Interracial education is not proposed as a panacea, but as supplementary to religious work, the direct ministrations of the Church and social work under religious auspices. Though aimed primarily at the majority group, whose attitudes affects in large measure the welfare of the racial groups, it also concerns the minority group itself, namely, education of the minority group to meet the difficulties and challenges of opposition and opportunity as they appear."

WOMEN'S COLLEGE PLANS NEW WARTIME CURRICULUM

CLAYTON, Mo.—Incident to the war, a course in social forces will be offered at Fontbonne College, here, with the opening of the scholastic year, Sept. 15. It will be given by Dr. Alphonse H. Clemens, director of the Department of Economics and Sociology, and Miss Gertrude M. Hogan, instructor in English and Journalism.
Sister Mary Giles Phillips, C.S.J., R.N., who has just come here from Hancock, Mich., where she was superintendent of St. Joseph's Hospital, will have charge of first aid courses to be given under auspices of the Red Cross.
A course designed to make students fully conscious of Latin-American problems will be under the direction of Sister Mary Eleanor Nash, C.S.J. Another course tied in with the war effort will be commercial economics.

Dignity of Christian Womanhood is Topic

CARACAS—(UPI)—Through Christ and for Christ in Defense of Womanhood was the theme of the Catholic Action Week just held here. In all the parishes of the Archdiocese Catholic young women assembled to study and confer on the dignity of Christian womanhood, and to focalize current propaganda which stresses the Sacrament of Marriage and would "pervert the glorious Catholic tradition of the people of Venezuela."
