President Designates Thanksgiving, New Year's As Days of Prayer

WASHINGTON, (NC)—Declaring that the days are with us again when we "solemnly express our dependence upon Almighty God," President Franklin D. Roosevelt has proclaimed Thanksgiving Day and New Year's Day as days to be observed in prayer, publicly and privately.

TEXT OF THE PROCLAMATION DAYS OF PRAYER—THANKSGIVING DAY AND NEW YEAR'S DAY

"It is a good thing to give thanks unto the Lord." Across the uncertain ways of space and time our hearts echo these words, for the days are with us again when, at the gathering of the harvest, we solemnly express our dependence upon Almighty God.

The final months of this year, now almost spent, find our Republic and the nations joined with it waging a battle on many fronts for the preservation of liberty.

In giving thanks for the greatest harvest in the history of our nation, we who plant and reap can well resolve that in the year to come we will do all in our power to pass that indelible: for by our labors in the fields we can share some part of the sacrifice with our brothers and sons who wear the uniform of the United States.

It is fitting that we recall now the reverent words of George Washington:

"Almighty God, we make our earnest prayer that Thou wilt keep the United States in Thy holy protection," and that every American in his own way lift his voice to heaven.

I recommend that all of us bear in mind this great psalm:

The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want.
He maketh me to lie down in green pastures; he leadeth me beside the still waters.
He restoreth my soul; he leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for his name's sake.
Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for Thou art with me; Thy rod and Thy staff they comfort me.
Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies: Thou anointest my head with oil; my cup runneth over.
Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life; and I will dwell in the house of the Lord for ever.

Inspired with faith and courage by these words, let us turn again to the work that comforts us in this time of national emergency: in the armed services and the merchant marine; in factories and offices; on farms and in the mines; on highways, railways and airways; in other places of public service to the nation, and in our homes.

Now, therefore, I, Franklin D. Roosevelt, President of the United States of America, do hereby invite the attention of the people to the joint resolution of Congress approved Dec. 26, 1941, which designates the fourth Thursday in November of each year as Thanksgiving Day, and I request that both Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 28, 1942, and New Year's Day, Jan. 1, 1943, be observed in prayer, publicly and privately.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

Done at the City of Washington this eleventh day of November in the year of our Lord, Nineteen Hundred and Forty-two, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and sixty-sixth.

Franklin D. Roosevelt,
By the President:
Cordell Hull,
Secretary of State.

WIDMER'S
Thanksgiving's
JOYS

2nd year when you buy wine for your Thanksgiving Day table why not compliment your friends—and your own good taste—by selecting one of America's finest. Widmer's has enjoyed that reputation since 1858!

Widmer Wines owe their distinctive character and excellence to the rare combination of soil and climate of the Naples Valley in New York State, where the Widmer vineyards and cellars are located—and also to the skill of the Widmers themselves.

Port, Sherry, White Tokay, Muscatel—whatever your preference may be—Widmer's, we believe, will awaken in you a new enjoyment and appreciation of wine.

Getting On In The World

THE MILD MAN

If the mild man thinks, he avoids rash judgment, and always puts the best interpretation possible on others' actions.

If he speaks, he is careful not to detract.

When he must correct others, he does so with the least possible offense.

If he writes a letter, he is intent on conveying to the other a mood of satisfaction and pleasure.

If he has any dealings with another, he makes a point of observing the rules of etiquette and decency, abhorring anything that may make him offensive or put others ill at ease.

In a word, the mild man lives in a world where God's sunshine is always shining.

He is like a sun himself, whose rays go forth and enlighten dark corners and warm cold breasts.

—Henry Spencer, O.S.B., in "The Art of Living Joyfully"
