WAAC's Value Told To PTA By Lt. Geherin Of Auburn

By Mrs. W. P. Klunk

ITHACA—Lieutenant Jean Geherin, WAACS, Fort Des Moines, Iowa, a graduate of Trinity College and former teacher in Nazareth College, Rochester, spoke before the P. T. A. Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 18. She was presented by Mrs. John F. Geherin, president of the P. T. A.

Miss Geherin, whose home is in Auburn, quoted a writer in the CATHOLIC COURIER to emphasize her point. "The WAACs are organized under the American Eagle and not under a Lark." On the whole she said the press had been more concerned with the color of their uniforms and length of the uniform skirts than with the actual work that they were being trained to perform.

The Corps is trained in 13 different kinds of jobs, she explained, all destined to relieve some soldier from routine duty and put him in the combat zone. It takes a man to keep one man on the firing line.

Outlines WAAC's Day

When the Corps was organized, 1,500 officer candidates were accepted from throughout the United States for an intensive eight week course. Lieut. Geherin outlined the day of an officer recruit as follows:

5:45 A. M. First Call, and "If you're a little slow, you had better start at 5:30."

6:00 A. M. Reveille Formation followed by breakfast.

Bed-making or Quarters Police keeps the candidate busy until 8:55 A. M. when inspection by Army Officers takes place. Every inch and crease are closely observed and if a speck of dirt is present it is sure to be found, as rigid are the inspections.

At 8:45 A. M. Close Order Drill. Lieutenant Geherin answered the question why should women recruits drill by saying that there were three good reasons for it, namely—they are taught to march instantly in order, without questions or hesitation; they move in order and military fashion and thus escape enemy detection; the value of drilling as a lift to the morale of both partners and observers.

From 8 A. M. to 12 M.—Classes in 12 different subjects, including military customs and courtesies, defense against chemical attack, etc.

Mail Call Important

After dinner recruits have an hour of physical training. Mail Call, the most important moment in the day of those in service, men or women, comes later in the afternoon, followed by supper at 6:15 P. M.

An officer then asks if recruits would like an hour of drill, supposedly voluntary, but amounting to an order. Following this, recruits are required to take various examinations given by numerous instructors. Appointments for special attention, and so on, "leave what the time used as a guide" she stated.

Lights Out at 9:30 P. M. Recruits MUST be in bed.

Auditory training, consisting of the standard phrases and of words in the German language, is included in the WAAC's course. It is possible to-F and other dials which of necessity could not be included in the lecture.

Candidates are trained for four weeks after which they may apply for entrance into Specialized Schools, including Communication, Motor Transport, Medical, etc.

Army Army Cooking

Lieutenant Geherin had high praise for the Army Cooks, saying that the food was not only well prepared and pleasing to the palate, she also commented upon the general spirit throughout the Corps saying there were no petty jealousies or bickerings.

Concluding her remarks, Lieutenant Geherin said the war was not won and every man and woman could replace would be the the message signature at the final.

Mrs. Jean Schneider, secretary of the plans by Miss Jean Schneider have some two sections, "O'Leary Night" by London Herald, and "Let My Song Tell Your Heart" by Ernest Charles. Both girls are from Ithaca College.

Mrs. Josephine Parley and Mrs. T. M. Thirney are Co-Chairman of a Baked Goods display to be held Saturday, Nov. 21. Anyone wishing to donate is asked to have her contribution in by 10 A. M.

Never think that God's favors are God's denial. Hold on tight, hold on, because it is God's

Third Order Of St. Francis

The Third Order of St. Francis will meet at 3:30 o'clock on Sunday afternoon, Nov. 22, at St. Patrick's Church, Plymouth Avenue North. Those who have spent a complete year in the novitiate will be professed at this meeting and it is requested that the front pews be left vacant for them.

Franciscan tertiaries whose sympathy and admiration for the Chinese have been aroused by their long struggle against aggression, will be interested in the fact that Dr. John Wu, who is translating the New Testament into Chinese at the request of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek is a member of the Third Order of St. Francis.

He came a long way to reach that having having been previously a Buddhist and a Protestant.

Dr. Wu, an eminent scholar has been one of the Rosenthal lecturers and recipient of a Carnegie Peace Award. Since Dr. Wu's conversion, his wife and twelve children have come into the Church.

Let all Franciscans pray for the Salvation of China.
