

Sodal talk

The Scapular Militia has become the center of attraction for Holy Ghost Parish as its members of Our Lady's Scapular have made several scapulars which in turn will be sent to various volunteers for completion. The Parochial Committee has also pointed its efforts in this direction. Before returning the completed scapular each devotee will make one half-hour visit to the Blessed Sacrament, offering her prayers for the Service Man who will wear that scapular.

The Circulating Library of Holy Ghost Parish has received as a donation from Director Father Warner six current books by Magt Patton I Shea. The King of Bernadette by Franz Werfel has also found its place in the library.

Sodality Treasurers must be diligent in a thriving business. Immaculate Conception is the second group to plan a Holiday when prices are so much cheaper. Carol Brent and Rosemary Ward did a remarkable piece of work in that Sodality turned out almost one hundred per cent for the affair. Emma Hafner and her committee very subtly passed an invitation to come again when they passed refreshments.

St. Mary's Sodality has not forgotten the Holy Father's Triduum. The entire Parish offered Mass and Holy Communion for his intention.

What a banquet Rochester Catholics enjoyed Father Fox at a testimonial dinner Thursday evening at the Powers Hotel. This was a small token of appreciation to one who served so willingly and with so much effort for the welfare of the Rochester Sodality Union.

Major Catholic Intercollegiate Football Action

Out of the confusion and turmoil that went to make up the 1942 football year, one major Catholic college survived all the hazards to present to its adherents and the football public at large an unblemished record. Of course that team is Boston College. The Eagles are ranked as one of the nation's best. If not the very best and we should all be extremely proud of their noble performance. Last week's record, 6 hits, 3 misses.

1. Boston College over Boston University—Boston University can consider themselves lucky at anything less than a hundred point defeat. They'll have to throw themselves on the mercy of the Eagles who may be in a hospitable mood and decide not to score too many points.

2. Villanova over Duquesne: Very close. Neither has much to boast about.

3. Missouri over Fordham: Boston College handed Fordham its most humiliating defeat last week. The Rams won't suffer a like fate this week, but will probably lose.

4. Georgetown over George Washington: A lot of Georges. Not even close.

5. Holy Cross over Manhattan: Hope the Crusaders experience one of their better weeks.

6. Detroit over Arkansas: Detroit has an excellent team this year losing only one game. However, this will be very close.

7. Marquette over Army: Great. We chose Marquette last week and hoped for an upset which didn't materialize. We're taking the same chance again this week. Big not hoping for an upset.

8. Notre Dame over Northeastern: The Irish were a great disappointment last week. However, they're sure good enough to keep the Wildcats from winning their first game.

9. Santa Clara over California Pre-Flight: The Broncos conclude a very successful season ranking behind Boston College as the number two Catholic team. Total Record: 27 hits, 2 misses.

A particularly enjoyable part of the exhibit concerns the S.S. Lit-

AT AQUINAS INSTITUTE

By ROGER TRABOLD

Aquinas 27 St. Joseph's 6

Overpowering a strong St. Joseph's eleven last Sunday at the Old University Field, Aquinas Institute closed another successful grid season by gaining a 27-6 win in the last game on its 1942 schedule.

The invaders threatened to score in the first period after driving to the Irish 14, but here their attack stalled and Aquinas took over the ball, kicking it to their own 41. Then St. Joe's fullback tossed a long pass to his end who scampered away with little opposition.

In the second period, however, Aquinas started an air attack with Billy Reynolds slipping a 40-yard pass to Costigan in the end zone. The conversion failed and the game was tied up at 6-0. Still using the airway, Billy accounted for another six-pointer when he heaved a touchdown pass to Ray Pierce in the last three seconds of the first half. Graham's try for the extra point was successful and Aquinas led 12-0.

The Irish obtained their next tally in the third quarter when Ray Pierce passed from the St. Joe 36 to Reynolds who eluded three of his foes and romped 20 yards to the goal line. Slayton then kicked the conversion to up the score another point. Leading by the comfortable margin of three touchdowns, the Maroon and White permitted its reserves to enter the battle. These lads followed the example of the first team and successfully took to the air. They managed to make a touchdown on a pass from Diehl to De Botta, just a few minutes before the game ended.

Although he will lose several good players through graduation, Johnny Sullivan is looking forward to a good season next Fall. If the Irish do as well then as they have done this year winning five games and losing two, they will certainly turn in a fine performance.
