Cites Train Of Moral Evils Brought By Birth Prevention

HUNTINGTON, Ind.—Birth control, being a practical application of the philosophy that there is no form of morality outside of the individual is responsible for the train of divorce, abortion, concubinage and sterilization which is increasing in the United States, the Rev. Dr. Edgar Schmiedeler, O.S.B., Director of the Family Life Bureau of the National Catholic Welfare Conference, declares in the current issue of The Acolyte, published here by Our Sunday Visitor Press.

In one of a series of articles on "Twenty-five Years of Uncontrol," Dr. Schmiedeler asserts that once the pagan teaching that sex is something "to be separated in principle from the true purpose of marriage and to be made a mere means of gratification," there is no "logical stopping place" for the host of moral evils that follow.

"Birth control does not stand alone," he says. "It is but one of many forms of uncontrol, all closely linked and interrelated. Nor do declining birthrates and declining populations stand alone. They are but one part of the picture. Other parts show a decadent nation, a deeply immoral society, a selfish and undisciplined people."

"To be sure," birth control would "be dreadful enough," Dr. Schmiedeler adds, "both in itself and in its consequences, even at that," but, he writes, "it is, as a matter of fact, but a part of a greater whole" and "consequently, too, its results are much more far-reaching than if it stood alone."

"Many harmful currents are found in the social milieu of the western world today," Dr. Schmiedeler says, "impelling the individual toward the new and away from the traditional view and ethic. Certainly outstanding among them are the following: an extreme Freudianism; a selfish individualism; a rank materialism; the general notion of free love; the utter disregard for modesty manifested in the cult of nudism; the degradation of the press, the stage, and the cinema. These are all closely linked together. Some are no more than ramifications of others. All of them have, as a matter of fact, shows much growth in our midst. Emphasis upon one or the other seems to give an impetus to still others."

U. S. Soldiers' Choir Sings at Requiem Mass

BRISBANE, Australia.—A choir of United States servicemen sang the liturgical music of the Mass for the Dead at a Requiem Mass offered at Mary Immaculate Church, Ipswich Road, Brisbane, for the repose of the soul of one of their comrades, Sergeant George Schmeidler, of Green Bay, Wis., who was accidentally killed at an Allied camp.

The Requiem Mass was most impressive, the singing of the soldiers' choir, who brought along their own Mass Manuals, and chanted the Dies Irae, the Absolutions and other parts of the Mass.

Liturgical Art Course

CHICAGO.—A course in ecclesiastical art has been opened at the Art Institute here to serve art students and artists, regardless of religious denominations.

Suffers Injuries
 Mrs. Gerald Orsky of Eastport, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Farnsworth of 216 Elmwood Ave., is glad she hasn't any more children. Two weeks ago she was thrown from an automobile, suffering fractures in both her shoulders—one in four places, the other in one.

Mrs. Orsky is now convalescing at the home of her parents.

TROUEN PREACHER
 The Rev. Neil F. Knight, O.M.I., will be the guest preacher at the Triduum services in honor of the Immaculate Conception which will be held at Our Lady of Lourdes Church, Dec. 4, 5 and 6.

The social services will be held at 7:45. They will close the evening of the 5th.

The Holy Name Society meeting will be held in the church hall after the services on Tuesday, Dec. 8.
