Feasts Reenact Life Of Christ Says Priest

Each year we must grow more Christ-like as it were, just as the growing tree adds a new ring to its trunk each year. The Christmas period of the year shows us Christ as the Light of the world. Advent is its period of preparation. The Easter period shows us Christ as the life of the world. Lent is the period of preparation. The Church Year is truly one of God's gifts; we must live it however, in order to reap its benefits.

"Illustration of the electric light bulb. It is too much, too strong for the eye to look at. When seen through a prism, however, it becomes very pleasing, very easy to look at. The Son of God, Jesus Christ, is also too much for us to behold in each Mass. Seen and observed and studied in the Church Year, however, each feast (like the flash of the electric bulb in the prism) becomes very near and dear to us. Christ stands forth very clearly in one particular event of His life, with some particular virtue for us to imitate. The church teaches that there comes from each feast particular graces which aid us in living the feast and its lesson. Truly God is good to us, His creatures."

Holy Land Is Again Pedestrian Paradise As Autos Are Banned

JERUSALEM.—The dearth of automobiles on the roads of the Holy Land, because of the ban of the operation of private motor cars in Palestine, has made the country a pedestrian's paradise.

In place of the always-anachronistic automobile on the ancient highways of this Biblical land, there has been a return to favor of the long-neglected horse and the picturesque and safe—if slower—camel and donkey as means of conveyance.
