'Fifty Books of Year' Exhibit Open At Nazareth

By DORIS A. DUNLEA
In cooperation with the American Institute of Graphic Arts, the Nazareth College Library is highlighting one of the most interesting exhibits to be presented at the school, that of the Fifty Books of the Year which were judged according to their physical excellence, with view to binding, paper, typeface, legibility and attractiveness, and the use of color and illustrations.

The selections range in price from $1.00 to $4.00 and include The White Cliffs by Alice Duer Miller, Saragani by William Saroyan, The Snow Geese by Paul Gallico, and The Flowering of New England by Van Wyck Brooks.

The public is invited to visit the exhibit which will continue until Dec. 10.

Tule Log Rite

The traditional burning of the Tule Log will be held Dec. 16 on the College Campus and will be followed by the singing of Christmas carols by the students, a tableau, and a short play. Committees for the event include Marcella Casfield, honorary chairman; Helen Grabosky and Helen O'Brien, general co-chairmen; Clarisse Martens, reception; Angelica Morabito, invitations; Margaret Volpe and Marilyn Moore, entertainment co-chairmen; Ruth Lorenz, refreshments; Jane O'Brien, publicity; Rita Meyers, music; and Alice Vande Voorde, arrangements.

Christmas Baskets

In cooperation with the Catholic Charities the College will distribute Christmas Baskets to fifteen families this year. Jeanne Teddy and Patricia Goodwin are co-chairmen of the undertaking. The baskets, which include food, clothing and toys, will be distributed the morning of Dec. 24.

Debaters To Wells

Representing the Nazareth College Debate Club, Ruth Lorenz and Jean Foley attended Wells College, Aurora, N. Y., on Dec. 5, to discuss the topic Whether Women Should Marry Now.

Fr. Kelly Honored

Chaplain Leonard A. Kelly, former teacher of Religion at the College, was entertained at a dinner by members of the Junior Class, Dec. 4, before returning to his duties as a chaplain in the United States Navy.

Senior-Faculty Party

The annual Senior-Faculty Christmas Party will be held Dec. 17 at the College. The committees consist of Patricia Barry, honorary chairman; Suzanne DePrez and Patricia Greene, general co-chairmen; Catharine Stett, entertainment; Helen O'Brien, invitations; Ruth Mater, arrangements; Florence McGinnis, reception; and Jane O'Brien and Eileen Tiernan, publicity co-chairmen. A buffet supper will be followed by entertainment in the Social Lounge, in which students will imitate a faculty board meeting.

Fourth Harbor Program

A Remembrance Fourth Harbor program was held in the school auditorium, Dec. 7. The ceremony included speeches by Rosemary Connor, One Year of War; Nancy Brown, The Spirit of Service and Sacrifice; Patricia Greene, An Anniversary with a Purpose; and Barbara Kelly, Our Path Toward Victory. The program was interspersed with patriotic songs.

Boarders' Party

The first Boarders' Christmas Party in the new dormitory will be held Dec. 17. Catherine McCarthy is in charge of the affair which will include entertainment in the Social Lounge where a brilliant Christmas tree will be the center of activities.

Club Conference

Three representatives of the College attended the Middle Atlantic International Relations Club Conference at Princeton University, Princeton, N. J., Dec. 4 and 5. The delegates included Prof.

Rosemary White, advisor to the Nazareth I. R. C. Chapter, who participated in discussions on Germany. Marion Koeman, junior, member of the group which discussed Russia, and Lanza Klemens, sophomore, who participated in the discussion of Latin-America.
