Trapp Family Singers Edify, Delight In Yule Program

Rain and sleet without, but within the walls of St. Mary's Auditorium on Monday evening were warmth and joy when the Trapp Family Singers presented to an appreciative audience their Christmas Concert under the auspices of the Daughters of Mary of St. Michael's Church.

Unaccompanied, the voices of these eight artists with their director, Dr. Franz Wagner, blended clearly and truly. Their presentations included yuletide folk songs, carols, classics. Delightfully entertaining were the numbers played on the musical instruments of generations ago.

Selections were introduced with charming introductions by the Baroness Von Trapp. The background and early history of the selections, many of which had their roots in the intimacy of Austrian home life, added to the appreciation of them. A Christmas Message from the Trapp Family to the people of

Urges Mothers of Small Children To Stay Home

NEW YORK—Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins, speaking at a conference of the New York Women's Trade Union League, urged women with young children to remain at home rather than enter war work.

The principal complaint of employers in war industries, Secretary Perkins said, in connection with the employment of women, is the high absentee rate, chiefly among very young women and those who have children.

MONUMENT TO NEWMAN

Montreal.—The Newman Club is a monument to the memory and hopes of one of the greatest figures of the nineteenth century, of a man who in the words of Gladstone, "had a mind as clear as crystal glass, and as sharp as the diamond which cuts the glass." Grant O'Leary, one of Canada's most noted newspapermen and Associate Editor of the Ottawa Journal Dailies, told a convention of the Canadian Federation of Newman Clubs here.
