When the smoke of battle has cleared away, wouldn't you like to feel you had played an important part in saving lives? $5 a month for those necessary studies in Kwatin will do it.

"It hurts to be hungry" said a half starved wail to a Maryknoll Sister who offered him a sandwich. It can save a refugee from starvation for a month in it worth while?

Let us urge you to be sure you are held as accountable for the souls he expected us to save. Why not pay a rate of $5 a month to help you fulfill your obligation? He's on the field and knows the ropes.

Missionaries and nuns in Bolivia are well equipped with medicinal herbs, and work on a 24-hour schedule. 30 missionaries must be supplied with durable nets (40.50 apiece) for protection during days and nights in the jungle.

A Voice from the Grave

"The work is difficult here," he writes, "because of the high mountainous country, and the dangerous rivers on which we must use a launch to travel. Fever comes all too often dulling the senses, but when we work for God difficulties become sweet. My one desire is that God will give me health and the necessary means to keep on marching ahead for the salvation of these poor souls among whom His Providence has called me to work."

The above is an excerpt from the last letter received from Father Duhamel, one of the four missionaries working in the Solomon Islands. His desire to "keep on marching ahead for the salvation of the Solomonese" was not realized in his earthly field of labor but it will be continued in a successful way in the eternity upon which he has entered.

A Record of Service

With a record of forty-two years of service His Excellency, Most Rev. Arsene Turquetil, O.M.I., Vicar Apostolic of Hudson Bay Canada, has asked for the appointment of a successor, who will carry on the arduous task of directing mission endeavor "in the roof of the world." His Vicariate comprises the limits of Canada from the North Pole to the 58th degree of latitude. All correspondence must be sent to Chouhill, Manitoba, wherefrom letters will be sent to destination once or twice a year according to the locality.

It would seem, however, that the very difficulty of the task intrigued the twenty-five-year-old Ontario missionary when he began his work in the Hudson Bay district forty-two years ago. The frozen fastnesses of the Arctic Circle, the overwhelming distances to be traversed to contact the scattered and indifferent Eskimos challenged his zeal. There was no written language for the Eskimo tongue! Their make one was the reply of Arsene Turquetil? A trip to the United States resulted in the adaptation of the Turquetil Eskimo characters for the use on typewriters and the missionary was able to return to the north with the means to place written texts in the hands of his associates and their converts.

"I am not strong enough to continue my visitations which last from three to four months on dog sleds or by the water routes," states Bishop Turquetil. "Hence I have asked to retire and the pastor of the mission at Chesterfield Inlet, Rev. Mark Lacroix, O.M.I., has been appointed my successor. He is a veteran of the north, having spent eight years in the Arctic Circle.

Today, after forty-two years of service Bishop Turquetil, reports that one-seventh of all the Eskimos in the Vicariate of Hudson Bay are Roman Catholics and that 300 are under instruction in the fourteen mission stations, where 21 priests, 6 Brothers and 6 Grey Nuns are working.

Rochester's Walter Honored

Many of our readers will recall Magr. Pothacumary, who visited Rochester several years ago with His Excellency, Most Reverend Louis Mathias, Archbishop of Madras. Many will recall his friendly nature and remember his enthusiasm for the Church in India. The friendships he made during his visit endure. Magr. Pothacumary was later made Bishop of Guntur India. Father Arthur Florack was instrumental in gathering sufficient funds with which to erect an orphanage and church in Guntur. This establishment has been dedicated to St. Michael.

"I expect to leave for Bangalore toward the end of January," Bishop Pothacumary writes. "It is true Bangalore is better organized and developed than my present diocese of Guntur, but much work remains to be done for the sanctification of the faithful and the spread of the Gospel. I shall have to study conditions in order to ascertain the best possible means for the expansion of our missionary effort. Experience here has convinced me that by opening new mission centers much progress can be made. God grant my friends in the United States will not forget me!"

Holy Childhood Association

Rev. John S. Randall DIRECTOR

I am confident that it is given to few Diocesan Directors in the country to accept the report that was brought to me by the Pastor of Holy Family School, Rochester. Each year on the Feast of the Holy Family a solemn reception of new members into the Holy Childhood Association is held in Holy Family Church. The savings of the year are brought to be presented as a gift to the Holy Child on this feastday.

The following is the report that was given to me and which I accept with heartfelt gratitude and sincere pride, in work well done.

New Convent For Reunited India Nuns

MADRAS, India. The foundation stone for a new convent for nuns reunited from Jacobitism, has been blessed by the Most Rev. Servilio Joseph Valakushyil, at Piravom, in the Diocese of Trivello, which was erected for the Jacobites reunited with the Catholic Church.

The nuns officially are known as Sisters of the Imitation of Christ and the community was founded by the Most Rev. Magr. Ivanios Panikaruvettil, reunited prelate, now Archbishop of Trivandrum.

Next to associating with heroes, the greatest inspiration comes from association with brave thoughts. Here, if anywhere, we may find the fountain of perpetual youth and of undying courage.
