Recreation Articles For War Prisoners Sought In Campaign Opening Here Feb. 1

The musical instruments and athletic equipment collected in Rochester during the week of Feb. 1-7 for war prisoners in camps all over the world will provide an outlet for their energies and talents, Melvin M. Swartz chairman of the executive committee stated yesterday in reviewing the plans for the campaign.

"Y" workers who have visited war prison camps told of the need for these articles to give prisoners some form of activity and diversion and to keep their spirits up while waiting for peace and release.

Already musical instruments and pieces of athletic equipment are coming in despite the fact that the actual campaign does not start until the first of the month. Getting things in early will be helpful, campaign officials said, as it will lighten the burden of those working in the drive during the week scheduled for the collection.

Places To Donate

All fire houses, police stations, theatres, schools, war plants and YMCA's are acting as depositories during the drive. The Junior Commandos and members of Hi-Y clubs are acting as messengers to call at homes and pick up musical instruments and athletic equipment that is being donated to war prisoners. This is being done to help save time of people who are busy working in war industries, and to help those who cannot make a trip to one of the designated depositories themselves.

To have a messenger call at your home, merely call the "Y" at Stone 2942, and one of these youngsters, most likely one who lives in your neighborhood, will call within a day or two.

According to an Associated Press report out of Washington, three-fourths of all athletic equipment being manufactured today is now directed to the army. This plus the fact that manufacturers cannot get needed materials makes it virtually impossible for the War Prisoners Aid of the YMCA to purchase the needed articles, thus they have to resort to collecting those which are already in existence. The storeroom of almost every household has either a banjo, baseball bat, tennis racket, mandolin, or any one of a hundred pieces of athletic equipment or musical instrument. These are the things that are needed in this campaign.

'Test' Collection

Rochester is one of three cities where a "test" collection of this sort is taking place. It is expected that a campaign on a nation-wide scale will take place shortly.

It is not too early for you to contribute the things you have that you would like to go to war prisoners. Take them to any one of the aforementioned depositories, or call the "Y" if you would like to have the articles picked up.

So that all of these musical instruments and athletic goods can be acknowledged, please attach your name and address to each item that you give.

No Games—Those in charge of the campaign specifically do not want second-hand games such as chess, checkers, backgammon or playing cards. The reason for this is that the censors will not permit second-hand games to leave the country nor to enter prison camps without subjecting them to such scrutiny that the games are damaged beyond repair.

SODALTALK

Rochester can now claim 23 more Sodalists. On Sunday, Jan. 24, Father John Leary received these candidates into the Sodality of St. John's Parish. Rev. Roy Morphy, Diocesan Director, delivered the sermon and gave Benediction. Following the Religious ceremony, an informal entertainment took place in the hall. New members were greeted with a welcome song. Because of the type of refreshments, Sodalists referred to this gala affair as a "Blue and White Cocoa."

Prior to the January issue, St. John's newssheet was without a name. May we now introduce to you, The Sodality Spotlight. Please add this name plus the name of the editor, Mardette Drechsler to your exchange list.

The Queen's Crown, Sodality paper of Our Lady of Perpetual Help is now undergoing a change in management. This paper will find its way into many Army and Navy Camps in the country. Nice going, Sodalists.

How important is installation of officers? Well, ask the officers of Holy Family. They thought it so important that they had a ceremony in church. The regular business meeting followed after which the Sodalists put on their social activity.

You may think that two Sodality meetings in one month are too much. Not for Holy Rosary Seniors. On Sunday afternoon they hold their spiritual meeting in church. For their social activities, supper meetings seem to meet with their approval.

St. Francis Assisi announces the formation of a Junior Sodality. Since their first meeting in December, Josephine Caranddo, Prefect, has been ably teaching her group the rules of the Sodality.

Our hats off to you, Sacred Heart Sodalists. The Speakers' Bureau has actually been called upon. Mr. Arthur P. Farren, from the Catholic Worker, held his audience spellbound with his very interesting topic.
