Family Life Study

The Sociology Majors are planning study on Catholic family life in collaboration with the National Catholic Rural Life Conference. Details of the study are being worked out at present.

The Senior Sociology students participating in the course are: Suzanne DePrax, Jane Dispensa, Edna Fitzgerald, Mary Pat Foley, Helen Gloschke, Helen Grubosky, Geraldine Jappa, Sally Meenan, Jane O'Brien, Betty Quinn, Eileen Tierman, Frances Clare O'Reilly, and Ann Steble. Jane O'Brien and Eileen Tierman will be co-chairman for this study.

St. Patrick's Day

At a Mission Board meeting held on Feb. 5 at the college, plans for the coming Saint Patrick's Day Tea were discussed. Virginia Bauman, President, presided at the meeting.

Child Training

Sister M. Paulette, head of the Sociology Department, addressed the members of the Rosary Society at the Immaculate Conception Hall on Feb. 5. The talk was concerned with personality pitfalls to be avoided in child training.

Opera List

Practice in preparation for the annual opera, which is being staged and directed by the Senior Music students, is in progress. The event will be presented at the college on Mar. 18.

Student Recital

At the monthly Student Recital held Feb. 9 the students of the Public School Music course presented a program including numbers by the college string quartet and several violin and piano solos.

Participants in the Recital were Helen Derchak, Shirley Woodman, Catherine McCarthy, and Corlene Freer, string quartet; Mary Jane Schwartz, Mildred Clark, and Beverly Jones, piano solos, and Betty Keegan, violin solo.

Youth Council

Two students, Florence Sins and Virginia Sullivan, will represent the College at a meeting of the Youth Council of Rochester at Cutler Union on Feb. 14. The topic will be Youth's Role in Winning the Peace While Wearing the Victory.

Coffee Display

Supplementing the Latin American Exhibit in the library this week is a display of coffee from the various countries. The display is presented by the American Can Company. Information compiled by the Bureau of Coffee Information, New York City, accompanies the exhibit.

With Catholic Poets

Lord, Is It I?

How came He to this forlorn hill? And whence that rope within His hand? And why that hush on all the land? It waits so still! So still!

It was two thousand year ago That this Man died! This is not He, But a distorted imagery Of things I would not know.

Strange how those burning eyes of fire Are mirrors of familiar things. Are they my palms that rough hemp strings? Is it my love for hire?

O heart, let loose thy anguished cry Of fear! But only doubt and pain Forever echo it in vain: "O Lord, and is it I?"
