Noctena of Grace Set By Nazareth Mission Unit

By DONALD A. DUNLAP

A Reeling Party will mark this year's "get-together" for freshmen and sophomores Mar. 9, when freshmen will entertain at an informal party at the arena.

Mildred Cholewick, class president and general chairman, has announced that class officers will take over the committees to facilitate plans. Ticky O'Sullivan, vice-president, will be at the head of the reception committee; Madeline Macbeth, treasurer, will be in charge of refreshments; Mary E. Dancy, secretary, will take over the arrangements; Rosemary Connor, parliamentarian, will plan the entertainment; and Katherine, student council representative, will take care of the invitations.

Mission Unit Knives

The Fremis Mission Unit of the college is planning a Missions program for the month of March. Among the most important events is the Noctena of Grace which was begun on Thursday, Mar. 4, at the close of the Student Hour, when benediction of the Blessed Sacrament, the Novena Prayers, and a talk on the life of Francis Xavier were given. Dr. Edward Latta of the college faculty opened the Noctena which terminate with appropriate ceremonies next week.

Arrangements are also being completed for the Green Lunch Party, Mar. 17, which is sponsored by the Fremis Mission Unit.

Plans are being advanced for the improvement of the Mission Room with newly painted furniture and curtains.

Debate Listed

Representatives of the Colgate University Debate Club will meet members of the college Forensic Society in open forum, Mar. 5, to discuss post-war problems and plans for reconstruction. Cathy Scott, chairman, has announced Jean Schantz, sophomore, and Claire Yarter, freshman, as representatives.

Fugal Peace Plan

The fifth point of the Fugal Peace Plan was discussed this week at the meeting of the senior and junior classes, presided over by the Rev. Edward Latta. Cathy Scott, Gertrude DePasquale and Mary Pat Foley, seniors, read papers concerning "Living Christianity, the Goals of Peace."

The under-classes meeting, presided over by Sister Teresa Marie, dean, discussed "Peace That Lead to War." Dorothy Wegman, sophomore, and Alice Vande Voerde, freshman, presented forces that were arrayed against peace before and after World War I.

Latin American Talk

Dr. Ismael Morales, South American expert, spoke on matters pertaining to South American countries and their inhabitants, Mar. 2, before an assembly of Spanish students and those interested in South American affairs.

ON THE HOME FRONT HOW TO MAKE DRAW CURTAINS

It is easy to make draw curtains with the fixtures you have, plus a pair of large screw-eyes, some wood or brass rings, and about five yards of cord.

The screw-eyes are placed just under the hooks for the curtain rods; then run the cord through the screw-eyes at the right; then through the rings, knotting it to the left ring at center; then through the rings and the screw-eyes at the left; and back through the rings, knotting it to the right ring at center.

Now pass the cords through the rings and the right screw-eyes and then make the tassels, raveling the ends of the cord after making the knots. Sew safety pins to the back of the curtains so that they may be fastened quickly to the rings.

NOTE: The curtains shown here are from BOOK 1 of the series available to readers at 10c each, plus 4c postage and mailing costs. BOOK 1 also contains directions for making curtains for various rooms; also cutting and making directions for bedspreads, dressing table skirts and slip covers. the week. You are welcome to attend. There is no charge.

ONE National President's Message for March deserves wide publicity in these days when Planned Parenthood is sponsored by so many of our prominent citizens. She says:

"Let us not be confused in our thinking. The laws of God are the same in times of peace as they are in times of peace; just as important, tempered with the same justice, carrying with them the same punishment for nonconformity. Planned Parenthood groups would have us believe otherwise.

We are good citizens because we are good Catholics and as such we are deeply interested in the program of our Nation. We resent any suggestions that our birthrate be controlled or limited. The following statistics make it obvious that we have not taken a more unified position against these evils. Did you know that (1) Of all the married women in the United States 42 per cent have either no children or at least one child; (2) Of all the married women in the United States only about one-third are mothers of 4 or more children; (3) In our cities our American people are only replenishing themselves by about two-thirds, and our urban professional classes are replacing themselves only by about 80 per cent. These facts are incredible and must shock and grieve the hearts of American mothers who are sending our sons to the front to die, if necessary, to protect our institutions; and our homes, to safeguard our traditional American ideals. Should we be asked to sacrifice our sons if these statistics of family life are permitted to spread their propaganda, that "will make of us a decadent nation, a nation of uneducated people?" It is time for the defenders of the family, Catholics and non-Catholics, to crusade against any group whose object is to stultify the growth of the best, the noblest, the greatest Country on the face of the globe.

"This is truly our war, Catholic mothers, we must align ourselves on the front line of defense, even though our hearts are bleeding for our own sons we must courageously protect our Nation from the enemy within; our gains—the enemy who would destroy the very civilization and democracy we all love. Let us instruct our daughters and daughters-in-law in the obligations that are demanded of them in their service to God and Country.

"It would be wise to take our cause to St. Joseph, the Protector of the Holy Family. Without the family no nation can exist. Let us seek the aid of St. Joseph, guardian of every Catholic family." Margaret Magennis Angulo (Mrs. E. A.) President
