

Four Catholic Nurses
Enlist In U. S. Army

Four nurses from the class of 1942 at St. Joseph's Hospital's Nursing School, all Catholics, have joined the armed forces via the Army Nurse Corps. They will report to Ft. Dix, Ky., for active service, having enlisted following their graduation. They left Elmira Sunday night.

They are Miss Rita Mary DeJordine, 239 Washington St.; Miss Anna Marie Steverns, 619 Mt. Zion St.; Elmira; Miss Dorothy Catherine Barr, 21 Washington St.; Corning; and Miss Marian Collins Butcher.

By the way — BUY WAR BONDS

Post-War Problems Effect
All, Milliken Declares In
Address To Hornell K. of C.

HORNELL—"Since every man, woman and child is a part of the war effort, each of us has a concern for and is a factor in the post-war problems, the peace that is to come, the kind of world we will live in and the benefits all will receive."

This message was brought by Cornelius J. Milliken, Elmira newspaperman and prominent Catholic layman to more than 100 men attending the George Washington birthday dinner of Hornell Council Knights of Columbus held in their home in Broadway Feb. 22.

The Knights of Columbus membership campaign which has been underway for the past few weeks was formally launched at the dinner. In the near future, more events of a social nature will take place to further the success of the campaign.

Deep Sacrifice

Mr. Milliken, past grand knight of Elmira Council and past district deputy, spoke of the sacrifice we are called upon to make "sacrifice of money, of labor, and of time for the cause which has become the crusade of our time, a noble cause to which we yield our every bit of one's devotion and support."

The speaker also quoted President Roosevelt who said, "Great as the problem of total war seems, those problems that are to come are also total; that our four freedoms may not remain simply a laudatory enunciation of the idealistic basis on which to wage war, but shall become the actual and practical foundation for the just existence of all peoples."

Referring to the fact that of 30,000,000 children in the United States, 16,000,000 receive no religious instruction, Mr. Milliken then quoted Monsignor Fulton J. Sheen as saying: "That while the founders of our country believed in the separation of Church and State, they did not intend the separation of the State from religion and morality."

Evil Opposed

In commenting on the statement of the head of the Bureau of Investigation on juvenile delinquency, Mr. Milliken said, "The Knights of Columbus, a Catholic society for Catholic men, oppose this evil and opposes the pagan philosophies of Fascism, Communism and expediency, disruption of family life by divorce and the efforts of those who promote the teachings of what former President Theodore Roosevelt called 'race suicide' at a time when the best blood of our manhood is being poured out on the battle-fields of the world."

Mr. Milliken closed his address by saying "though we work and help all individuals in the unity of a powerful organization such as the Knights of Columbus, we can courageously accept the challenge, not given to the weak and the faint-hearted, but to the strong, to work and fight for God and country."

Grand Knight Richard E. Matthews welcomed members and guests, R. E. Donnelly, chairman of the membership campaign, presided as toastmaster. Mr. Donnelly spoke of the aims and present success of the drive, pointing out that it was the duty of the Knights of Columbus to assist in the war effort in every way, and to return the Council and its activities intact and vigorous to the members who are now in the armed forces of the United States upon their return.

Mr. Donnelly introduced the Rev. Ignatius X. Cameron, Council chaplain; the Rev. Walter Fischer, the Rev. John P. O'Malley, Edward Burke of Denville, district deputy; Clement L. Murphy, grand knight of Corning Council; Past District Deputy Paul Tammaro of Corning, and Past District Deputy Francis M. Cameron, Francis J. Kelly and Harold A. Hogue of Hornell.

Mr. Hogue, who is now financial secretary of the local council, said today that about 30 have applied by reinstatement.

Seven Receive
K. of C. Degrees

Seven more Knights of Columbus received the first and second degrees on Monday, March 1 at the Columbus Center. The Corning ritualistic team officiated. The group will be present at the Corning exemplification of the third degree to be held on Sunday.

A MARYKNOLL BOLIVIAN MISSION

A Maryknoll priest, Rev. James A. Flaherty, of Philadelphia, son of the late James A. Flaherty, Supreme Knight of the Knights of Columbus, offers the first Mass in Villa Victoria, new Maryknoll Mission in Bolivia. A church will eventually be built on the property, which was donated to the Maryknoll Fathers. Pierre Boal, U. S. Ambassador to Bolivia, was among those at the Mass. (N.C.W.C.)

Bishop To Be K. of C. Guest
At St. Patrick's Dinner

Knights of Columbus will hear the Rev. Raymond G. Heisel, former assistant pastor of St. John the Baptist Church, at the annual St. Patrick's Day dinner to be held on Sunday, March 14, at the Mark Twain Hotel. The Most Rev. James E. Kearney, Bishop of Rochester, will be guest of honor. David Vincent Sheehan will act as toastmaster.

Honorary chairman of the affair is Edward J. O'Connor. Co-chairmen are Thomas R. Burns and Robert L. Peutz.

Father Heisel, former chaplain of Elmira Council, is now chaplain of Rochester Council.

Ticket committee: Joseph G. Backes, Lewis J. Jacobson, John P. Alva, Henry P. Farrell, George E. Geiff, Charles J. Curtis, Atty. Francis P. O'Brien, Eugene F. Agin, Paul A. Tammari, Frank Romeo, John Rogers.

Entertainment: George F. Glynn, Richard J. Foley, Austin F. Horan, Publicity: James P. Maylin, Jr., Clarence Beckerman, John T. Nugent, James W. O'Hara, Joseph V. Cleary, Martin E. Johnson, Reception: Fred Jenavage, Robert Doran, Philip J. Sullivan, James L. Burke, Francis Kelly, Dennis Donahue, William Little.

Junior C.D.A. Hear
Fr. Hogan At Banquet

The Rev. Joseph F. Hogan, assistant pastor of St. Patrick's Church, was main speaker at the sixth annual banquet held by the Junior Catholic Daughters of America on Tuesday, March 2, at 6 p.m. in the Mark Twain Hotel.

Miss Clare McCarthy, president, acted as toastmistress, and complimentary remarks were offered by Mrs. Elizabeth Holloran, grand regent; the Rev. Leslie Whalen, spiritual director, and Mrs. Robert Fitzgerald, district deputy, Corning. The Rev. Leslie Whalen gave the invocation.

Present also at the speakers' table were Miss Rose Ford, reporter; Miss Mary McLaughlin, vice-president, and Miss Alice Murphy, secretary. A piano solo was given by Miss Florence O'Halloran, and Miss Madelyn Chase sang. Following the singing of the Good Night Hymn, Miss Mary Kathryn Colahan, organizer, led the benediction.

Income Tax Expert

Talks To Men's Club

CORNING—At the regular meeting of the Catholic Men's Club, held Wednesday, Feb. 24, at the Baron Steuben Hotel, Edward T. Burke of the Department of Internal Revenue was the guest speaker. Raymond Oder, president, presided at the meeting.

A round table discussion was conducted by Mr. Burke on income taxes and the other revenue taxes. Mr. Burke is now stationed at Corning Glass Works, where he is aiding employees with tax problems.

Red Cross Nurses' Aid serve injured citizens.

GEORGE BARR
AND HIS TRIO IN THE LOUNGE BAR OF THE
Mark Twain Hotel
AFTERNOONS AND EVENINGS

They're A Musical Treat!

Sheehan
Dean and Co. Inc.
New York City

Take SPRING
In Your Stride
Be Ready To Meet It In—

New Spring prints which are always right for Spring or a dress of Navy...
Navy is the new any-
season color and especially right, right now!

8.95 Dresses

These dresses include the popular suit-dress in dressy afternoon styles . . . and the more tailored styles.
The prints are in rayon for-silk and rayon crepe . . . so much in demand for Spring.

They come in Junior,
Miss, Misses, and Women's Sizes.

Other New DRESSES
Sue to 19.95

Join the Red Cross