Fay Photo, Boston (NCWC)

FOUR OF OUR CHAPLAINS and another St. Bernard's Seminary graduate, are in this class recently graduated from the Army Chaplains' School, Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass. Photograph was taken at a reception held for them by Archbishop Spellman of New York, Military Vicar of the Armed Forces (eighth from left, second row). In Third Row, sixth from right, is Rev. Donald M. Cleary; Fourth Row, fourth from left, Rev. Alfred J. Carmody, Hartford; Fifth from left, the Rev. Bernard C. Newcomb; Second from right, the Rev. Donald J. Murphy; Fifth Row, eighth from left, the Rev. William J. Caynor. All five Chaplains, graduates of St. Bernard's Seminary, will go to posts on the fighting front.

Elmira Catholic High News

By KATHLEEN MILLIKEN

A Victory Book campaign is now being conducted at Catholic High. Students have been asked to donate as many good books as possible, and many have responded to this appeal. It is hoped that the Victory Box will be filled with books for our soldiers before the end of the campaign.

During the week of February 21 an exhibit for Catholic Press month was shown in the hall of the school. The object of this exhibit was to acquaint the students with Catholic newspapers and periodicals throughout the country. Special emphasis was placed on diocesan editions of Catholic papers. The latest issue of the COURIER occupied a prominent place on the poster for the Catholic press.

The exhibit was sponsored by the Clarion, official newspaper for Catholic High.

"YOU WON'T HAVE TIME"

By THEODORA BROWNFIELD

Issued by the National Kindergarten Association, 8 West 40th St., New York City. These articles are appearing weekly in our columns.

"Don't start playing with your dolls now, Jane!" Mrs. Roberts admonished as Jane began to wheel her baby-doll through the side doorway. "You won't have time. Dinner is almost ready!"

Next door Jimmy Foster was running his toy engine through a side doorway, too. "This train is going to Chicago tonight," announced Jimmy.

"Well it had better get started quickly!" Mrs. Foster clapped her hands. "It will have just time to get to Chicago before dinner is ready."

"See, Mother, there it goes. It's gone!" And with the light of accomplishment in his eyes, Jimmy Foster picked up his train and followed his mother back into the house to wash his hands for dinner.

The next morning two similar scenes were enacted. Jane ran out with her mother to the garage. "May I pick some flowers to take to Aunt Grace?" she asked as her mother unlocked the garage.

"Oh you won't have time!" her mother answered.

"Just one flower, Mother!" pleaded Jane.

"No, there isn't time."

"Oh hello, Jane," called Jimmy Foster. "I'm going to my uncle's this morning."

"Hello, Jimmy," answered Jane. "We're going to my Aunt Grace's."

"Mother, could I take some of those pebbles from the rock garden to Uncle Ted?" Jimmy asked as he held the garage door open for his mother to back out the car.

"You'll probably have just time enough to get them while I let the motor warm up. There's a small box by the window," answered Mrs. Foster.

And so it goes, from morning till night. Jimmy Foster is encouraged to fill in the spare minutes with small pleasures or little tasks. Jane Roberts is constantly reminded that the time she has is insufficient. Jane's experiences may lead to a feeling of being cowed or hurried. Or again, she may learn to procrastinate — always putting off things "until there is more time."

"There won't be time" can so easily be changed to "There will be time," and in keeping with this latter attitude, children are quick to learn the real value of time—to measure and judge what can be accomplished in a certain period. This knowledge is invaluable in later life, for besides teaching punctuality and courtesy through being prompt and considerate of others' time, it may lead to the accomplishment of really worthwhile things.

Jane and Jimmy are much happier and just as obedient to rules and regulations if they are allowed to fill in the time, just before dinner or just before starting on a trip, with some desired accomplishment. Two or three pages may be read in a good book, sleeves may be sewed into a doll's dress, one picture may be colored gayly with crayon or the row of parsley in the garden may be watered! The value of minutes is so plainly demonstrated this way, too. It is worthwhile to hear a child say: "See what I did while waiting!" or, "There was just time enough!"

Marquette Honors Robert D. Murphy

MILWAUKEE — Robert D. Murphy, an alumnus of Marquette University who was named Minister to North Africa by President Roosevelt after his diplomatic efforts paved the way for the landing of U. S. troops there, was given an honorary degree of doctor of laws at the university's commencement exercises. The degree was conferred by the Very Rev. Raphael C. McCarthy, S. J., University president. The Rev. Alphonse M. Schwitalla, S.J., dean of St. Louis University medical school, gave the address to the graduates.

Chicago Parishes Join Blood Donor Service

CHICAGO — Chicago parishes are cooperating as units in the Red Cross Blood Donor Service here. A letter was sent to all pastors by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. George J. Casey, Chancellor, urging them to ask the faithful to cooperate in this vital contribution to the Red Cross program.

Among the first to respond at headquarters were three Lithuanian parishes.

CYO Notes

"The Gypsy Rover" is the operetta chosen by the CYO members to be given some time in June. Try-outs for the promising group of prospective actors and actresses were given on Tuesday, March 2 at 7:30 p. m. Columbus Center, Mrs. John D. Lucas directing.

Attendance increases each week at the craft class conducted every Wednesday afternoon at 4 p. m. in the Federation Bldg. by Mrs. Joseph Dowdle.

Make-up of the first issue of the CYO Star, newspaper representing the group, was planned at the 7:30 meeting of the publicity committee in the Federation Bldg. with Miss Rita Rickey. Publication is expected the following week.

The regular monthly meeting of the Recreation Committee of the Ladies of Charity took place at 8 p. m. Wednesday, Federation Bldg., with Miss Dorothy Martin, chairman.

Thursday 4 p. m. to 6:30, basketball at SS. Peter and Paul's.

Friday, dancing, 7 to 9, 7th and 8th grades, Columbus Center, 9 to 11 p. m., high school students. This is the last pre-Lenten meeting of these groups.

Swimming Saturday, 7 to 8 p. m., YMCA.

In Nazi Prison Camp

LONDON — Word of the death of the Rev. Robert Regout, S.J., professor of international law at the Catholic University of Nijmegen and moderator of the University Society in the German concentration camp at Dachau, has been received here by the Netherlands Information Bureau.

Father Regout, along with several other professors of the university, was arrested and placed in a Nazi concentration camp shortly after the invasion of the Netherlands in 1940.

Bowling In Elmira

St. Cecelia's				St. Patrick's				St. John's				All Saints
[illegible]	127	127	377	Hannan	133	144	149	DeBerardo	140	144	182	Lacy	131	168	149
[illegible]	147	134	415	Sheridan	143	149	123	Anderson	123	118	153	Fiala	131	150	126
Connelly	121	120	366	Kelly	124	111	183	MacKay	149	171	155	Lasher	132	167	126
O'Brien	129	143	417	Johnson	127	124	141	Wood	150			Merrigan	134	146	164
O'Brien	158	171	429	Cahill	168	170	201	Mahoney	127	154	173	Mezza	122	70	161
	140	140	348					Robie		150	162
										94	112	125		143	98	147
Totals	822	835	2,352	Totals	795	872	994	Totals	842	884	960	Totals	823	843	968
Our Lady of Lourdes				St. Anthony's				St. Patrick's No. 2				St. Peter & Paul's
[illegible]	123	121	326	Vendetti	147	115	122	Sullivan	126	121	158	Cyne	166	158	137
Lawless	130	125	313	Fiala	148	131	166	Reilly	168	181	181	McMahon	124	169	151
Fitzgerald	163	122	341	Mazzarella	132	168	203	McGill	126	162	189	Barnes	139	148	172
Eustace	81	146	371	LeMark	153	151	144	Mar	126	120	120	J. Wren	122
Mullen	154	133	354	Mette	140	148		Mey	126	116	128	Shay	134	130	166
				DeNotaio			124					Connelly		151	138
	142	142	142			120	120			161	161			170	170	170
Totals	974	931	865	Totals	921	963	927	Totals	931	891	960	Totals	876	896	721

Barat League Rummage Sale

The Barat Retreat League held a meeting on Wednesday evening, Feb. 24, at the Federation Hall. Plans were discussed for a rummage sale to be held in the near future. The meeting was followed by a scavenger hunt, under the direction of the officers and following committee: Misses Alice Hughes, Theresa Richardson, Margaret Keeton, Eleanor Maloney, Mary Weingart, Irene Lagonegro, Mary Catherine Richards, Kathleen Millikan.

Chairmen for the rummage sale are Miss Claire McCarthy and Lois Basler.

Former Senator Gives City Block For School

LAKE PROVIDENCE, La. — Former United States Senator Joseph E. Ransdell has given a city block "for the purpose of assisting in the establishment and maintenance in perpetuity of a school for Colored people." The plot contains 20 lots, each 30 by 150 feet. Senator Ransdell is a Knight of St. Gregory.

The property is adjacent to the recently-erected Blessed Martin de Porres Church in which Senator Ransdell took an active interest. The parish of Blessed Martin de Porres was established last year by the Most Rev. Daniel F. Desmond, Bishop of Alexandria.

Educator Named Domestic Prelate

DUBLIN — The Rev. Arthur Ryan, professor of scholastic philosophy at Queen's University, Belfast, distinguished lecturer and writer, has been named Domestic Prelate by His Holiness Pope Pius XII.

Aged 43 years, Monsignor Ryan received his education at St. Malachy's College and Queen's University, Belfast. Later he went to the Irish College and the Propaganda University, Rome. Ordained in 1921, he was Classical Master in St. Malachy's and subsequently held the Chair of Dogmatic Theology in Maynooth.

Red Cross Nurses' Aides serve injured civilians.

Air Raid Sirens Interrupt Letter From U. S. Nuns Stationed In South China

MARYKNOLL, N. Y. — "Do not worry about us over here," is the admonition of Maryknoll Sisters in Loting, South China, written to the accompaniment of air-raid sirens, exploding food prices, and wails emanating from an overcrowded orphan asylum.

A letter just received by Mother Mary Joseph, Superior General of the Maryknoll Sisters, says the activities of the missioners in South China have not been impeded by the hazardous war conditions under which they are forced to work.

"Our children are growing in age and numbers," reads the letter. "Yesterday, eight more children were brought to us from Lintsan, crowding us a bit, but according to the old Maryknoll tradition, we can always make room for one more multiplied by eight if the occasion demands.

"You can't imagine how expensive things are. The situation would be really laughable were it not so serious. $15 for a box of soap, $22 for a pound of brown sugar, (there isn't any white), and all other articles priced in proportion. An air-raid alarm is sounding, so please excuse an interruption!"

Later, the Sister's letter continued: "Do not worry about us over here. We feel as we know you would have us feel—that we came here for God, and we are confident He will never forsake us. Only beg the grace for us to grow daily more worthy of our great vocation."

The three Sisters staffing the Maryknoll Loting Mission are: Sister M. Francis Davis, Superior; and Sister M. Colombiere Bradley, both of Brooklyn, N. Y.; and Sister Monica Marie Boyle, of Miseraville, Pa. Besides the orphanage work, they visit the sick, instruct those interested in the Faith and conduct doctrine classes every Sunday morning for those who are to be baptized.

NEW ORLEANS — Daily army trucks bring 200 soldiers to Loyola University of the South for their classes in the Chemical Warfare School. They line up, march to classes in Marquette Hall, then go to the stadium for practical applications.